Relief Force Nears Yanks Under Siege

Russ Give Conditions To Disarm

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia said today it is prepared to sign new disarmament agreements with the West regardless of the war in Viet Nam.

Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin made it clear, however, that such agreements depend on the West meeting other Soviet conditions.

INSPECTIONS OUT

Tsarapkin said Russia would sign "immediately" a comprehensive nuclear test ban, if the United States would drop its insistence on international on-site inspections to prevent cheating.

He said the Soviet Union would also sign a nuclear nonproliferation treaty at once if the West qould scrap plans for a NATO nuclear force.

Asked at a Geneva foreign press association luncheon if a Viet Nam settlement is considered by Moscow to be a condition for such agreements, Tsarapkin said:

EAGER TO BIND

"We are not eager to bind the two together. Then we would have a permanent stalemate."

In another development, Communist China is reportedly conducting a whispering campaign here to influence neutral nations at the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Red Chinese diplomats are quietly contacting non-aligned officials at cocktail parties and receptions in Geneva to push the Peking line.

Previously Peking has avoided any and all contact with delegates to the conference which it contends is a "conspiracy" between the Soviet Union and Western "imperialists."

Now, however, the Chinese Embassy in Bern and the Peking consulate in Geneva have

Column Moving Slowly

SAIGON (UPI)—A Vietnamese government relief force backed by armor and planes, neared the beleaguered U. S. Special Forces camp at Duc Co tonight after a three-day drive through the central highlands.

A correspondent flew over the column at dusk tonight and reported it was slightly more than a mile from the perimeter of the camp.

SPLIT IN TWO

He said the column was moving slowly toward the camp where 13 American advisers and more than 1,000 Vietnamese have been under siege by the Communists.

A U.S. military spokesman at Peiku reported the relief column was split into two sections and was carrying out road clearing operations in conjunction with the push toward Duc Co.

A spokesman in Saigon said earlier that the column had been cut in two by the Viet Cong.

AIR STRIKES

Air strikes were called in against the Communists and apparently succeeded in dispersing them since the relief column was still on the move late tonight.

The development came as an emergency airlift ferried a steady stream of American paratroopers to Pleiku, 35 miles east of the camp on strategic highway 19.

Moon-Probe Rehearsal Is Success

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — An Atlas-Centaur rocket shot a dummy spacecraft toward a "paper moon" today in a flawless rehearsal for America's first Project Surveyor moonshot this fall.

The brilliant success was a big boost to the hardluck Centaur that has cost more than a half billion dollars to develop.

The high-powered rocket sent the 2,100-pound Surveyor model speeding on a 63-hour journey toward an imaginary point 240,000 miles away in space.

The rocket itself performed with near perfection on its 11-minute climb into space. It then kicked the dummy payload away from the Centaur upper stage with the rocket performing an acrobatic maneuver to shoot it away from the model moonship's course.

The success, one of the most important in Centaur's history, cleared the booster for the first launch of a live Surveyor lunar lander in November or December. The rocket had only two successes in five previous shots and blew up on its last launch in March.

New Divorce Law Held Retroactive

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch ruled today that a new state law to speed divorces will be retroactive to cases already filed.

The new law becomes effective Sept. 17 and makes a divorce final one year after the divorce complaint is filed. Under current law, the final decrees comes one year after the interlocutory is granted.

Freak August Storm Hits Marin With Thunder, Lightning, Rain

DAMP WELCOME—Tourists to San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brekouf of El Cajon, San Diego County, were not prepared for the heavy rains that arrived in Marin about the same time they did. Their light garb, however, made it easier to jump puddles like this one at Fourth and A streets. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Power Knocked Out; Rash Of Accidents

A freak August storm slammed into Marin early today with roars of thunder, eerie flashes of lightning, hail and hard rains that left gutters gushing and many streets covered under minor floods.

The storm, beginning at 3 a.m., also knocked out power in many areas of the county and brought a rash of accidents on slick highways during the commuter rush. It also caused fires.

The storm dumped 1.15 of an inch of rain in Sausalito by 11:45 a.m. today. San Rafael had .65 of an inch by noon.

The storm gave Marin what may be the wettest August on record. Carroll A. Snyker of Ross said the wettest August on his records was in 1917 when .45 of an inch was recorded.

NIGHT RAINBOW

At 3:15 a.m., shortly after the wild storm began, a rainbow, illuminated by almost steady lightning appeared over the East Bay. Patricia W. Reynolds of 4A Circle Drive, Tiburon, and Independent-Journal reporter Frank Farrara, 34 Villa Avenue, San Rafael, both witnessed the beautiful phenomenon.

"It was a real wild thing," Mrs. Reynolds said. "There was a rainbow, with a complete arc, right in the middle of the night. It was very beautiful."

The storm dropped a trace of rain on the county during the pre-dawn hours, then opened up in full force at about 8 a.m.

Power was out for periods up to an hour by lightning "pretty generally throughout Marin County," according to Leonard O. Robertson, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. electrical superintendent.

"The lightning, seeking the weakest point to ground, hits the power lines and knocks circuits out," Robertson explained.

DASH TO FIRES

The lightning caused no fires in the county, but the rain did. Firemen in the county were kept busy this morning, extinguishing fires which broke out on power poles.

Sausalito firemen dashed from one sparking, arcing power pole to another as residents phoned at about 9:40 a.m. to report burning poles on Atwood Street, the Napa and Bonita street intersection, Woodacre Avenue.

Tiburon firemen were called at 1:50, 2:32 and 3:15 a.m. to fires in transformers and arcing wires. Larkspur firemen watched as the rain extinguished

Nursery Plan Passes Over Hot Protests

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

In the face of 65 angry, vocal residents of the Dominican area, the San Rafael Planning Commission voted 4-1 last night to grant Johnnie Bunch a use permit to move his nursery school from 221 Belle Avenue to the old Coleman School at Linden Lane and Grand Avenue.

Appeal of the action to the city council seemed certain. Opponents were so angered by the decision that they walked out with a petition purportedly bearing 183 signatures, refusing to leave it at city hall.

"It didn't do us any good," explained one woman hotly as commissioners urged them to leave the petition on file.

Commissioner Carl S. Brown voted against the action. Other commissioners went along with the recommendation of outgoing City Planner George H. Rodgers to grant the permit with several conditions.

These included setting a maximum of 200 children at the nursery school and retaining architectural control over any remodeling Bunch may do on the school building.

Spokesman for Bunch, and for the handful of people present who favored his plan, was attorney John C. Bernt, whose law firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks owns the old school property.

About eight people raised their hands when Chairman Fred C. Robbins asked who favored the application. Robbins then declined to honor one man's request that the proponents be polled to see which of them were property owners.

Rodgers read several letters opposing the plan, then residents

Johnson Signs Salt Water Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a $185-million bill to step up the program for turning salt water into fresh water and set a goal of a breakthrough by 1970.

After declaring that "desalting is not a dream" any longer but within reach, the President turned to another water problem —the emergency resulting from a four-year drought in the Northeast.

The governors of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, mayors of big cities in these states, members of Congress and key government officials met in the White House after the bill-signing ceremony to look into what Johnson termed ways and means of facing up to an emergency.

Brown Easy To Beat, State Pollsters Say

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Both Sen. Thomas Kuchel and actor Ronald Reagan could beat Gov. Edmund G. Brown if a gubernatorial election were held now, a polling organization reported today.

The California Poll, in a copyrighted survey by Field Research Corp., announced that 56 per cent of all California voters would vote for Kuchel against 31 per cent for Brown. Thirteen per cent said they were undecided.

Reagan would get 46 per cent of the vote against 41 per cent for Brown with 13 per cent undecided, the survey said.

The poll also said that former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, George Christopher, and Sen. George Murphy would lead Brown if an election were held now.

The results were compiled from a sample of 1,200 voters surveyed during the last week of July.

Chilean Avalanche Is Fatal To Five

PORTILLO, Chile (AP)—An avalanche roared down on a lodge at this Andes ski resort early today, killing five persons, including two U.S. citizens and a Canadian.

The avalanche crushed a camp where eight members of a ski patrol had been asleep.

Senate Passes Cabinet Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today the bill to create an 11th cabinet department — Housing and Urban Development — to deal with the problems of the nation's cities.

The measure, debated for 10 years in Congress and on President Johnson's list of priority measures, was sent to conference with the House which passed 217-184 June 16 in different form.

The framework of both versions is the same. Senate sponsors said they expected little difficulty in working out a compromise.

MURDER SHIP SURVIVOR—Elvin Burywaise, 17, who survived by hiding in the bilges when shipmate Roberto Ramirez apparently went berserk and slew the rest of the crew, is comforted by the vessel's owner, Daniel Garcia. (AP Wirephoto)

Pro-Castro Sailor Held For Ship Killing Spree

MIAMI (UPI) — A swarthy, pro-Castro Cuban sailor was held for a murder charge today in the slayings of his captain and four shipmates aboard the freighter Seven Seas.

Authorities said Robert Ramirez confessed he killed the five seamen because they disputed his political views. He left unsolved the whereabouts of a crewmen still missing. Another sailor survived the carnage by hiding in the ship's bilge.

Ramirez was found in a life boat yesterday by the German freighter Bellavia about 60 miles south of Miami. Ramirez carried a fully loaded revolver, knives and a supply of bullets.

The fiery Latin was described by a former skipper as "a heavy drinker and a woman chaser, but a good sailor."

The missing crewman was the ship's cook, Gerald Davisson. A Coast Guard spokesman said there were no immediate plans to launch a search for Davison, who may have jumped overboard in panic.

Another crewman, Elvin Burywaise, a 17-year-old Honduran, often talked with Ramirez about his former life as a lobster fisherman in Cuba and about his family. This may have saved his life.

ROBERTO RAMIREZ
Killed for Castro?

Ramirez told authorities he did not attempt to harm Burywaise because he had never argued with him about Cuban politics.

Burywaise hid in the ship's anchor locker for 14 hours after the slayings Saturday night. He emerged after a Coast Guard cutter pulled alongside the seemingly lifeless ship Sunday.

Surprise Guest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was a surprise guest last night at a farewell dinner for 133 teen-age air cadets from 21 foreign nations.

Soviet Wheat Harvest Drops

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's spring wheat harvest will be well below 40 million metric tons, a drop from the 1964 yield of 47.9 million, according to indications.

The winter wheat, now mostly harvested, looks good but there are signs the spring wheat yield may sink as low as 30 million tons.

The harvest is not expected to be as disastrous as the one in 1963.

Senate Overrules Woodside Pole Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill that will permit the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to condemn land for an overhead power line through the town of Woosdide to the Stanford Linear ccelerator.

The voice vote came yesterday after 90 minutes of lively debate. The bill now goes to the White House.

The Senate would not be persuaded by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., to amend the bill to limit AEC disregard of local ordinances to matters affecting national defense and security.

Informed of the Senate action, San Mateo County Manager Robert Stallings said "our efforts now will be directed to the White House and President Johnson."

The bill was introduced at AEC request after the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled May 20 that the 1954 Atomic Energy Act prevented the commission from condemning land in Woodside for the overhead line.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., told the Senate the court had misunderstood the intention of Congress. He said the court determined that Congress had intended to strip the commission from condemnation authority under the supremacy clause of the constitution.

"If that is what we meant, we should have our heads examines," Pastore shouted. "How stupid can you get?"

Kuchel said Woodside "ought to be saluted for trying to protect the scenic beauty that God almighty gave it."

Pastore contended that Woodside, which already has 2,480 utility poles, wants the government to spend an additional $4 million to bury the transmission line to Stanford when it would add only three more poles in the city.

Kuchel was supported in his proposed amendment only by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

Pastore and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., urged the AEC to exhaust every effort to reach a reasonable compromise with Woodside and San Mateo County, but keeping in mind the government's $114 million in investment in the accelerator and the fact that "time is running out."

U.S. Relaxes Bracero Ban In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Labor Department has accepted a three-member panel's recommendation to import 8,000 tomato harvesters for California, but California growers are still unhappy.

The panel, meeting in San Francisco recommended last night that 4,000 workers be imported to California tomato fields the first week of September and 4,000 more the second week.

A labor department spokesman said Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz immediately accepted the recommendation without qualification.

Some 22,800 foreign workers had been requested by six growers groups represeneting the areas of Fresno, Stockton, Woodland, Santa Clara, Salinas and Hollister.

SLICK AND DANGEROUS — Six cars, all with minor damage, stand beneath the downpour after a 9:45 a.m. crash in the southbound lanes of Highway 101 on Alto Hill. California Highway Patrolmen had to dodge umbrellas in an attempt to prepare a report on the crash. Soon after this shot was taken, a northbound car hit the median barrier nearby.

Freak Storm Brings Lightning, Downpour

flames atop a power pole at 5 Harvard Avenue.

Robertson explained that the fires start when rain water acts as a conducter over corroded particles on the transformers. "It's a common occurrence after long dry spells," he said.

The rain was blamed for eight accidents handled by the California Highway Patrol between 8 and 10 a.m. today.

"We haven't had time to catch our breaths this morning," patrol Sgt. William Roberts said. "The patrolmen haven't even had time to write a report on an accident before another occurred."

Roberts urged all motorists to drive with extra care, saying the rain, combined with oil on the roads, has made the pavement "very slippery."

The lighter pre-dawn rain was blamed for an accident at 4:45 a.m. today when a car in which two Marin men were riding slid on wet pavement and crashed into a light pole on Highway 101 neaf the on-ramp from Tamalpais Avenue in the Corte Madera area.

The driver, Wesley W. Olsen Jr. 23, of 81 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for bruises of the arm. His passenger, William A. Shafer, 19, of 17 Venus Court, Belvedere, suffered cuts on the chin.

U.S. Weather Bureau said the storm was due to weak low pressure troughs in Northern California and off the coast, combined with south to southwest winds blowing from the east of the troughs.

The forecast for the Bay Area is for partly cloudy skies through tomorrow, with continued rain and thunderstorms.

In Tiburon, half of Tiburon Boulevard was covered with water this morning, in the general area where the city is negotiating with developers to install a storm drain.

Gutters in Belvedere ran brimful with water, flowing to cover at least one street, Bay View Avenue near Bella Vista Avenue. Belvedere reported .13 inches of rain at 7 a.m.

In Larkspur, .7 inches of rain was reported at 11 a.m. today. Lightning caused a power blackout to approximately 300 homes in Corte Madera at 9.40 a.m.

Residents at Loch Lomond, Bayside Acres and Peacock Gap lost power between 3 and 4 a.m. today when lightning struck a P.G. and E. line at the Basalt Rock plant on Point San Pedro.

Hail was reported in both San Rafael and Santa Venetia at 8 a.m. A rainfall of .43 inches was recorded in Santa Venetia at 7:30 a.m.

The rains began at 8 a.m. in Novato today. By 11 a.m. .4 inches had fallen there.

Power shortages all over the North Marin area were reported by Lee Wise, manager of the Novato branch of P.G. and E. The Blackpoint area and Lakeville Road area were without electricity all morning.

Other blackouts were reported on Diablo Avenue, Plum Street, Peach Street and the Marin Golf and Country Club area. By noon, about 35 to 40 power outages had been reported, according to Wise.

The storm set off more than 100 small brush and timber fires in Mariposa, Madera, Mendocino and Humboldt Counties. Division of Forestry planes were sent up to search for additional blazes in the Sierra Nevada and coast ranges.

Teen-age Plans Again Discussed By Terra Lindans

Members of the Terra Linda Community Services District board discussed teen-age activity at the community center with members of the Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Commission last night, but took no action.

The discussion was in preparation for the recreation district's special meeting with parents and teen-agers on use of community facilities to be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the community center.

The center has been closed to night activity by teen-agers since a rash of vandalism and an attack on a girl lifeguard during a burglary.

At a recent meeting, the CSD board tripled its budget for policing at the center from $1,000 to $3,000 to meet the problem.

Supervisors End Hearing On Protests

Weary Marin County supervisors ended more than a month of equalization hearings last night and heard all 860 protests.

Swamped with protests, the board began hearings July 8, adopted a speed-up policy and conducted morning, afternoon and night sessions so all protests could be heard by yesterday's deadline.

Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell said the exact amount of reductions granted has not been tallied, but he predicted it will be less than the $800,000 he had allowed for assessment reductions in his calculations for the fiscal 1966 budget.

As a result, the reductions will not raise the projected county tax rate of $2.19 per $100 assessed valuation, Mitchell said.

There were mass protests launched by Correct Unfair Taxation, a group of Tiburon peninsula residents, and the Lagoon Taxpayers' Committee, composed of Belvedere Lagoon residents. Both groups, however, lost their bids for assessment reductions.

Attorney Richard B. Weinstein, who represents the Lagoon Taxpayers' Committee, said today the group will take its case to court.

During the hearings, Weinstein made an unsuccessful bid to have supervisors disqualify themselves as a board of equalization. He contended the supervisors were not an impartial group, since their own taxes were affected.

Weinstein said today that evidence introduced at the hearings, plus figures in Assessor Bert W. Broemmel's records, show "discriminatory, unfair and unequal" assessment practices in the Belvedere Lagoon area.

become active on the conference sidelines.

Neutral sources said the Chinese are also making themselves heard in the home capitals of the eight non-committed countries attending the disarmament talks.

The Peking officials are telling the neutrals that the conference serves no useful purpose.

They are trying to get the neutrals to support at the conference Peking's call for:

1. A conference between the five nuclear powers — America, Britain, Russia, France and China — on the prohibition of nuclear weapons, and,

2. A world disarmament conference to include China.

250 Viet Cong rebels were counted on the battlefield by U. S. military advisers with the government force. Government losses were said to be "moderate" in the prolonged fighting.

The relief column struck out along Highway 19 on Monday and shortly found itself with Viet Cong rebels both in the front and in the rear.

The spokesman said the column was hit constantly with sniper fire and there was some light contact with the Communists today.

At Duc Co, the beleaguered Americans and Montagnard (tribal) fighters have been unable to evacuate their wounded because of heavy Communist mortar fire from the surrounding jungles.

More than 1,000 Vietnamese airborne troops were brought in by helicopters last week but they too became trapped around the camp by the strong Communist forces.

NURSERY

of the area rose and spelled out their views.

Robbins announced at the outset that he would try to hold the discussion to 45 minutes, but so many people insisted on being heard that it took an hour and 15 minutes to dismiss the matter.

Nearly all opponents objected that the nursery school is a "commercial enterprise" which would bring traffic problems and would tarnish the atmosphere of the neighborhood.

"We're all very much in favor of Mr. Bunch's enteprise," said E. Michael Shanley of 1604 Grand Avenue, "if it were located somewhere else."

Contending that issuance of the permit would "open the gates" for commercialization of the area. Dr. Orville F. Grimes of 1660 Grand Avenue said residents "would pool our own resources to purchase the property ourselves . . . for non-profit or cultural use."

At one point, Robbins became so angered by comments called out from the audience that he threatened to clear the chambers. At two other times, when the crowd applauded, Robbins sharply commented, "This is not a popularity contest."

Toward the end of the discussion, attorney Bernt angrily commented that "the mere fact that someone is making money is not sufficient reason to keep him out of a neighborhood." He added that barring of such an enterprise would limit usage of the old Coleman School to charitable activities. Someone in the audience cried out, "What did you buy it for?"

Rapping the gavel angrily, Robbins said, "this is a free democratic process we are going through this evening. We are trying to treat everyone courteously and hear all sides of this issue.

"You shall treat each other courteously, too, or this chamber will be cleared."

Commissioner John A. Miskimen did not arrive until after the matter was concluded.

Marin Youth Due Parole In Nevada

The Nevada Parole Board has ruled that Jeffrey Kelsey Connell, 21, of Mill Valley will be paroled next Mar. 21 from the Nevada State Prison, where he is serving time for the 1961 hold-up-murder of a grocery store owner in Reno.

Parole requests were turned down, however, for Chester Blum, 21, and Frederick Worrell, 20, both of Reno, who also were convicted of second degree murder in 1962 for the shooting of Clarence L. (Jack) Griffis.

Connell told authorities he plans to attend college.

Youth Jailed In Burglary

Sheriff's deputies, alerted by a witness to an alleged burglary, Monday trapped two Marin City youths in a Tamalpais Valley automatic laundry. Two others, however, fled over a fence.

Booked in county jail for investigation of breaking into coin machines in Shoreline Laundromat, 267 Shoreline Highway, were Gerald Len Ford, 18, of 149 Drake Avenue, and Morson Smith, also 18, of 307 Drake Avenue.

Bail was not immediately set.

Restaurant Customer Charges Withdrawn

No complaint was issued against Robert R. Edelstein, 18, of 17 Ichabod Court in San Anselmo following his arrest last Saturday for allegedly disturbing the peace at Red Kettle Restourant and Steak House, 203 3rd Street, San Rafael.

Michael Dufficy, deputy district attorney, recommended the case be dropped due to insufficient evidence.

Commute Tickets Delay Requested

Golden Gate Bridge District directors have been asked to delay ordering new commute ticket books printed, until it is decided whether bridge fares may be raised to help finance the Marin Transit District.

Bridge Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato also said changes may be needed in the ticket books if the district stops selling them at the toll plaza and puts them on sale in banks or elsewhere.

The decision to delay printing came yesterday at a joint meeting of the Finance and Commuter Affairs committees, and only after two split votes by the nine committee members.

Bridge District Manager James Adam recommended that the committee approve purchasing 108,500 commute books for January through June, 1966, as the second half of a contract awarded to a San Francisco printing firm.

Hardcastle moved for a month's delay in placing the order, so he can meet with the Marin Transit District Directors on the rate problem.

Director Joseph Diviny of San Francisco moved to table Hardcastle's motion and order immediate printing of the tickets, but could find only three supporters.

Hardcastle's motion then carried, 6 to 3.

The Novatan stressed that he is not yet taking a stand either way on raising commuter fares to help finance the Marin Transit District, but felt the proposal should be decided before tickets are printed for next year.

Bridge directors are studying plans to sell ticket books through outside agencies, because ticket sales at the toll booths slow traffic during rush hours.

Group Fights To Keep Out Pests (Humans) From State

Is man the greatest "agricultural pest" of all?

The California Depopulation Commission, which operates out of a post office box in Ross, thinks so

In a press release headed "bad news," the group urges that Californians start thinking about ways to bar human beings just as "agricultural inspectors refuse admission to the wooly apple gobbler, the red spider and the Mediterranean fruit fly."

The release was sent out by David C. Camp of 47 Bolinas Avenue, Ross, one of six directors of CALDEPOP.

It quotes a recent statement of the directors as calling man "the only agricultural pest who is fully protected by law for 12 months of the year."

This pest, it says, first blights the countryside by "laying out long strips of concrete, rather as a snail lays out his trail of slime. These 'freeways' damage farmland for miles on either side.

"An intermediate step . . . is infestation, during which man covers huge areas of good farmland with shabby housing and business structures.

"In the terminal or encapsulation stage, the farmer finds himself surrounded on all sides by urban development and is soon arrested for keeping cows within the city limits."

While not recommending the "harsh measures against man which are sometimes used to control other pests," CALDEPOP concludes that "California would be amply justified in preventing admission of any more permanent residents."

The release ends with a plea to "send all donations to your favorite Midwest chamber of commerce."

MEDICARE AND YOU

Social Security Health Benefits Likened To A Three-layer Cake

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer
(Ninth in a Series)

The health benefits provided by the new Social Security Medicare law have been likened to a three-layered cake.

The basic layer is what people call "Medicare." With funds collected from Social Security taxes, it offers certain hospital, nursing-home and other health benefits to persons 65 and older.

Layer No. 2 is the supplemental health-insurance program which provides additional benefits, including coverage of regular doctor bills, on an optional basis to persons past 65 who agree to split the $6-a-month premium with Uncle Sam.

The third layer offers free health benefits to the needy and the near-needy. It embraces what is now known as the Kerr-Mills program of "medical assistance for the aged" as well as health benefits available to regular recipients of public assistance (welfare).

This free care is financed jointly by the U.S. Treasury and the states. In some cases, counties and local communities also chip in money.

All states provide health benefits for recipients of "old-age assistance," a form of relief available to generally needy persons past 65. In addition, all but six states—Alaska, Georgia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Texas—have put into effect so-called Kerr-Mills programs to care for the "medically indigent." These are persons past 65 who aren't poor enough to rate regular welfare checks yet can't afford to pay their sick bills.

In effect, the Kerr-Mills programs amount to "medical relief." They are administered by state, county and city welfare agencies, and they have nothing to do with Social Security as such.

Programs for the medically indigent" vary from state to state. All provide some hospital care. Some also cover certain doctor bills, some drugs, some care in a nursing home or even such things as eyeglasses and false teeth.

Eligibility rules also differ. For instance, up to now, in some counties of Maryland an elderly person with an income exceeding $1,080 a year couldn't qualify but in Louisiana he might have an annual income as high as $3,000 and still get "medical assistance."

The ceiling on assets also varies. So does the definition of assets. Examples: Massachusetts disregards an elderly person's life insurance policy in figuring his assets but most states calculate the cash surrender value. California discounts any auto needed for transportation "regardless of market value" but Idaho specifies a "popular-priced car" and Hawaii sets a flat $400 limit. Iowa exempts "tools or equipment necessary for pursuit of an occupation," and Colorado discounts $200 worth of "working animals."

States still may set their own rules concerning assets. But Congress now has jiggled the law to encourage states to drop fixed income ceilings and to consider, in determining a person's need, only income "actually available."

Ross Council Expected To Fill Two Vacancies

Ross Town Council is expected to fill two vacancies in the official family at tomorrow's regular council meeting, 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.

Councilmen are to accept the resignation of longtime Councilman Harry C. The chief will retire effective Aug. 31, after more than 30 years on the city's law enforcement, street superintendent and other positions.

Seating of Councilman Scott's successor will be followed by the council's election of a new mayor pro tempore.

Preliminary hearing on the budget, and nine minor use permit and variance approval requests make up the rest of the agenda.

State Given Priority List For Parks In Marin County

Marin County supervisors yesterday recommended that Chileno Valley and Dillon Beach be added to the priority list for potential state park sites.

At the same time, they reaffirmed their request that the Marin Headlands Park and expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park have top priority.

Supervisors compiled the list in response to a request from Fred L. Jones of the state department of parks and recreation.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss suggested that the proposed Walker Creek reservoir be included, but Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen protested.

"Walker Dam would never be a good recreation site," Kettenhofen said. He said that it would "never be developed in our lifetime."

The North Marin County Water District and the Marin Municipal Water District recently filed for 91,000 acre feet of water on Walker Creek, and announced plans for a reservoir which would furnish water and recreation.

Kettenhofen and Walter Horchler of the county planning staff both recommended Chileno Valley for priority, and Horchler recommended Dillon Beach as a logical link in a coastal chain of state parks.

Supervisors agreed to seek support from Sonoma County supervisors on the Chileno Valley and Dillon Beach sites.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said that listing Chileno Valley would not exclude Walker Creek development, but Gnoss wondered whether "we can afford two great recreation centers."

Storer requested that the opinion of the county parks and recreation commission be considered.

The commission was scheduled to meet last week, but cancelled the session until today because of lack of a quorum.

The county's priority list must be in Sacramento by Monday.

Art Thieves Are Sentenced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two men convicted of receiving four pictures stolen from the estate of publisher William Randolph Hearst have been sentenced, one to prison.

The paintings, taken from the Hearst estate of Wyntoon in Shasta County, were estimated to be worth more than $0,000, but were damaged when recovered.

Sentenced to a prison term of one to 14 years was Wayne E. Olinger, 27, of Inglewood. Sentenced to three years probation and fined $350 was Eddeth H. Bacon, 43, of Los Angeles.

Supervisors Defend Access Through Tract To Airport

Marin County supervisors made it clear yesterday they are not going to relinquish an access right-of-way to the county airport, industrial park or no industrial park.

After a sometimes heated discussion, the board approved a tentative map of a proposed 41-acre industrial park between Marin County Airport and Highway 101, north of Novato.

The vote was 3-1 with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker dissenting.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen objected strongly to the portion of the map showing development over the county's right-of-way for access to the airport.

"Would you approve a tentative map across other public access?" he asked fellow board members.

The developer, Rancho Del Pantano Inc., proposed to subdivide the parcel into 60 industrial sites.

Kettenhofen charged that it was a speculative map and predicted the developer was not going to sell a lot for industry until the future of the county airport is decided.

Public Work Director Donald R. Frost said some of the land shown on the map is in the area proposed for airport expansion.

Supervisors noted that the county is behind schedule for land planning around the airport.

"This is what happens when the land developer gets ahead of the planning function," Leydecker said.

He contended the industrial park should be considered in relation to the surrounding area, rather than alone.

When supervisors objected to the proposed lots over the county's right-of-way, Planner Van Pelt said the map shows a substitute access to the airport.

Supervisors remained firm in their stand that they would not approve the proposed access plan, and will not approve a final map unless the county access is retained.

They also recommended that the area be zoned M-3, an industrial zoning that gives the county greater control over development.

Strep Infections Lead Diseases

Streptococcus infections led the list of communicable diseases reported last week to the Marin County health office.

There were 34 cases of strep infections reported, 28 of them in Novato.

Nine cases of gonorrhea, four of them in Mill Valley, were recorded. There were four cases of syphillis reported and one case of mumps.

Supreme Court Might Decide Poll Tax Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The four anti-poll tax suits filed by the federal government under the new voting rights law may turn out to be unnecessary.

The issue they raise—whether state and local poll taxes in Mississippi, Virginia, Texas and Alabama are constitutional—could be decided without them.

The decision could come in a private suit challenging Virginia's poll tax. The suit is pending before the Supreme Court and will probably be heard this fall.

A group of Virginia residents brought the suit, claiming that the poll tax discriminates against poor people.

Should the Supreme Court agree with their contention that the tax violates the equal protection and due process clause of the Constitution's 14th Amendment, the decision could abolish the tax not only in Virginia but also in the three other poll tax states.

Rejection of the private suit by the Supreme Court would not necessarily kill the Justice Department's suits since they encompass broader legal grounds.

Government attorneys believe their Mississippi suit, and maybe the others, can be won under the 15th Amendment, which forbids states from abridging the right to vote because of race.

'Safety' Device Blamed For Fiery Missile Silo Deaths

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Deep in an underground silo sheathing a Titan 2 missile something went awry with the safety devices.

An explosion and flames thundered through the "gun barrel" of the missile complex Monday afternoon, killing 53 civilian workers.

"These things are not supposed to happen," said Capt. Douglas Wood, public information officer for Little Rock Air Force Base, headquarters for the 18 missile sites in this region.

"We have many safety features, but the fact that it did happen contradicts these safety factors."

Heading an Air Force investigation ordered by President Johnson is Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert.

Zuckert and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., were due to arrive at the Little Rock airport today and head to the complex 10 miles northwest of Searcy.

An Air Force investigation team also is continuing its probe, begun after about 100 rescue workers finished the task of removing bodies from the smoke-filled 155-foot-deep silo.

There were only two survivors of the blast and flash fire which apparently erupted somewhere on or around the second or third levels of the nine-level complex where the workmen were renovating the site.

Driver Fined $276

Anthony Arthur Symkowick, 43, San Francisco, was fined $276 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol last July 19 on Highway 101.

Peace Formula Is Suggested

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic's civilian-military junta has suggested four additions to the peace formula proposed by the Organization of American States (OAS) but otherwise has found it "entirely acceptable."

Junta President Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera said last night the four additions include:

A requirement that all rebel officers who may be a danger to armed forces security be given posts abroad. All military officers abroad who went over to the rebels must remain outside the armed forces. All officers of retirement age who defected must be pensioned. Decisions of competent military tribunals must be upheld.

$75 Camera Stolen From Parked Car

Theft of a $75 camera from the car of Chester G. Laws, 83 Cypress Drive, Fairfax, and parked Sunday at Point Reyes National Seashore was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers.

V. Yeorgians Krestas, San Jose, also reported his car, parked in a Shell Beach parking area of Tomales Bay State Park, was entered and $40 cash taken Sunday.

EXCLUSIVE

GOODYEAR

TREAD RUBBER
WITH TUFSYN IS NOW FEATURED ON

CAIN'S
POWER EDGE
WIDE TREAD TIRES

An Important Message from Pat McAlonan and Bob Lyons

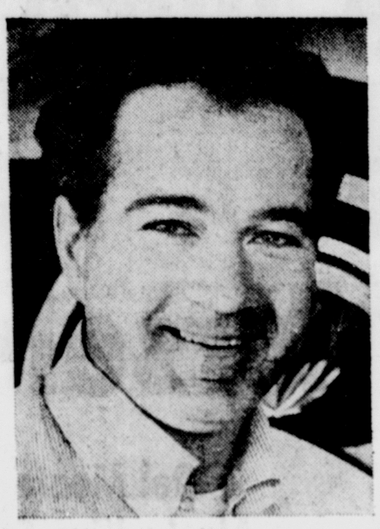
Even if you have never before considered buying retreads you should now! Revolutionary new capping procedures by Cain's has caused selected motorists under all driving conditions to take a "second look" before buying new tires.

This amazing new kind of tread rubber could change your tire-buying habits. Save you money—give better service!



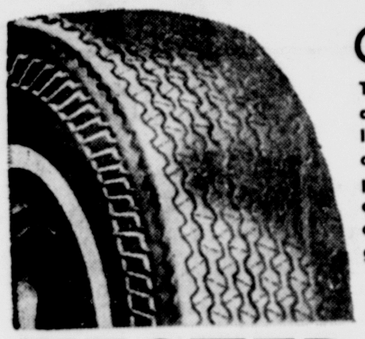
Pat McAlonan

Bob Lyons

AS TIRES EXPERTS we at Cain's have a real obligation to our customers. It is without reservation that we introduce Bonus Mileage retreads. With Cain's exclusive preparation and capping theory—our retreads are unquestionably your best tire buy in both mileage and safety.

Read this advertisement carefully! It is designed to give you the facts—to help you learn how to get all the quality of a first line new tire at about ½ the cost. Moreover, the service and safety you get from our Bonus Mile retreads will far exceed cheap tire performances. True, we sell new tires; Cain's is one of Goodyear's 2 biggest accounts in the Northern Division, but we will not risk your safety by pushing cheap new tires. If you insist we will sell you a good first line tire at a very good price. Otherwise our recommendation is that you seriously consider a Cain's Bonus Mileage Power Edge Retread.

YOU SHOULD KNOW
THESE FACTS ABOUT CAIN'S NEW RETREADS!



ONE...
The body is the most expensive and important part of your tire. It represents about 75% of the cost. Thus for a $30.00 tire, you pay $22.50 for the casing. Properly cared for the casing that comes on your new car should be good for 50,000 miles or more.

TWO...
The main failure of today's tire and today's retread is casing separation. The fabric separates from the rubber, causing an air bubble in the tire. Before tubeless tires this type of failure was unheard of. Cain's eliminates this problem by venting and tubing every BONUS MILEAGE retread. This is the foolproof way of protecting your tire investment.

THREE...
Now when Cain's applies bonus mileage tread rubber by Goodyear to your tires, you are getting better than the original rubber! Yet the cost to you is ½ of a suitable replacement new tire.

Hub's Residence Ordinance Studied

San Anselmo city councilmen last night held first reading of an ordinance that would amend the residence requirement for city employees, but it appeared that the council may split on the change in law when the vote is taken Aug. 24.

Meanwhile, San Anselmo City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt offered to move from Terra Linda to comply with the city's residence requirement.

But the four city council members present at last night's meeting decided to wait until Councilman William Franchini returns from vacation before acting.

Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro and Councilman Arthur W. Smith said the ordinance should be followed, while Councilmen John M. Reichmuth and Cedric Clute felt otherwise.

Duane C. Ragan, a member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, said the ordinance was passed in 1959, not 40 or 50 years ago. Furthermore, he said, many other Marin communities have such ordinances or similar ones. "That would seem to indicate that it is a good thing."

City Attorney John G. Buresh recalled that the residence requirement "was an off-the-cuff insertion into the ordinance" passed in 1959.

Hugh L. Erwin raised the issue of Flautt's residence two weeks ago when the council denied his request for financial aid to protect his home at 238 Saunders Avenue from being undermined by the Corte Madera Creek. Last night he made just one statement, demanding that Flautt "either move here or resign."

Flautt told the council, "I thought I had the permission of the council to live in Terra Linda. If the council orders me to move back I am going to move back."

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Received a check for $628.50 from the San Anselmo Homes Assn. for the purchase of plants for Parking Lot A next to the creek and across from the Tamalpais Theater. The association suggested that a tree in the park area of the lot be dedicated to longtime civic leader and school principal Valerie Ansel.
2. Granted permission for C. S. Dover to place a standing sign on the sidewalk outside his American Family Steak House at 726 San Anselmo Avenue. The sign is three feet by five feet.
3. Requested a meeting Sept. 14 with Mozart Kaufman, head of the downtown parking district, to discuss zoning and other regulations affecting the city's attractiveness to new business.
4. Authorized Flautt to call for bids for a new system of traffic signals on the Miracle Mile where Sequoia Drive and Greenfield Avenue cross Red Hill Avenue.
5. Approved partial payment for the lowering of traffic signals on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at San Francisco Boulevard and Broadmoor, Butterfield and Suffield avenues, and for the paving of Center Boulevard.
6. Resolved to restrict parking to one side of Indian Rock Road and Tomahawk Drive in the Indian Rock Subdivision in order to comply with the width requirements of the State Division of Highways for "major thoroughfares."
7. Amended the dog control ordinance to bring it into harmony with that of the county.
8. Appropriated $1,500 to the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce for the hiring of a full-time promotional worker for the city. Flautt told the council the city will get the money back "three-fold" in sales taxes from new business such work will bring.
9. On the advice of Buresh, the council sent back to the planning commission for more rigorous language an ordinance that would establish an architectural review board for commercial and apartment construction in the city.
10. Refused to pay for relocation of a fire hydrant in front of the home of Daryl G. McClelland at 147 Humboldt Avenue. McClelland said the hydrant was right where he wanted to put an entranceway.

Painters Union Local Gets Partial Draft Of New Pact

Officials of Painters Union Local 83 today got a look at a partial copy of the proposed Bay Area agreement over which they have been feuding with the union's District Council 8.

They were still not happy, however.

George Scott, treasurer of Local 83, said he was now trying to get word from the union's international headquarters in Lafayette, Ind., on what it could do with the incomplete copy of the proposed agreement.

Scott said Harry Bigarani, executive secretary of District Council 8, had promised to send a complete, printed copy of the proposed agreement, but instead sent only the partial copy late yesterday.

Also missing, said Scott, was a sealed envelope with instructions on when and how members could vote on it.

"Bigarani told us these details could be worked out afterward," said Scott. "But we feel we should know the whole story now, not just part of the story."

Local 83 considers the proposal less of a "Bay Area agreement" than a "Local 4 (San Francisco) agreement," Scott said, since other Bay Area councils have not joined into it.

Trespass Charge Jails Marinite

Clifford Albert Ghamos, 32, of Mill Valley, was in Marin County jail today for investigation of trespassing and alleged burglary of a residence in Mount Tamalpais State Park.

Bail was set at $1,100.

Sheriff's deputies said Ghames, of 348 Montford Avenue, was arrested by George E. Holmboe, park supervisor, after Holmboe found Ghames inside the home of W. W. Anderson on Frank Valley Road about 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

Holmboe reported the house had been condemned and purchased by the state, but Anderson's personal effects were still there. According to officers, Ghames said he failed to see a sign prohibiting trespassers.

Nothing was believed taken, deputies added.

Fair Plan Backed

Directors of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club agreed last night to support the Marin Committee for Fair Play in housing in its pledge card campaign asking opposition to descrimination.

DON DIMITRATOS

Recreation Chief Named In Mill Valley

Don Dimitratos begins work Monday as Mill Valley Director of Parks and Recreation.

Dimitratos comes from Redwood City where he started almost 10 years ago as a recreation supervisor of a community center while attending college and for the past seven years has been assistant recreation director.

The new director, 34, has toured some Mill Valley parks but still has to meet the parks and recreation commissioners. He was hired by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. Salary will be $905 a month.

Dimitratos says he likes the "nice, quaint atmosphere, the hillsides—you feel you're in the country."

He was born in San Francisco. Dimitratos received a bachelor's degree in recreation from San Jose State College. He served three years in the Navy on a destroyer during the Korean War.

Dimitratos is particularly known in Redwood City for having organized an elder citizens program and is considering ideas for a Mill Valley program which might utilize the new youth and community center at a time when youths are in school.

He also is thinking of a joint city-elementary school recreation program using facilities and personnel from both entities.

Dimitratos has moved into a rented home at 140 Belvedere Drive in Strawberry and said he is seeking a home within the Mill Valley city limits. He and his wife, Shirley, have two daughters, Nancy, 5, and Tina, 3.

Cubans Execute Three As Spies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three men charged with being agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by firing squads in Cuba, Havana Radio said today.

The executed men were identified as Roberto Fernandez Cobo, Raul Pereira Castaneda and Roger Sabino Sopena, all crew members of the Cuban freighter "Gonzalez Lines."

The broadcast, monitored here, said men were trained to use incendiary devices, radio transmitters and secret writing materials.

Pet Clinic Again Dope Theft Target

Burglars struck the Greenbrae Pet Hospital, 2104 Redwood Highway, Larkspur, last night and for the second time in nine days, walked away with a supply of morphine.

The burglary was discovered at 12:30 a.m. today by Larkspur policemen on a routine patrol. The thieves removed several panes of glass from a louvered window to get into the building just as they did Aug. 3, police reported.

Six to eight syringes and about 15 cubic centimeters of morphine with atropine were taken from the surgery room of the hospital, police said.

Sit-in Reprieve

BERKELEY (AP)—A three-day reprieve has been given 50 defendants convicted in last winter's University of California sit-in demonstration. Municipal Court Judge Floyd Talbot said he will rule Friday on whether the demonstrators can be released on their own recognizance while they await appeal proceedings.

Prison Aides Sued By Black Muslims

Suits were filed in Federal Court in San Francisco yesterday against the top administrators at San Quentin Prison by six Black Muslims inmates, charging denial of rights.

They demanded $39 million and the right to have religious meetings and keep Black Muslim literature charged that prison authorities are depriving them of their civil and Constitutional rights of freedom of speech, press, worship, association and equal protection of the law.

The suits were identical in charges against Richard A. McGue, administrator of the Adult Correctional Agency, Walter Dunbar, director of corrections; Fred R. Dickson, Chairman of the State Adult Authority, and Lawrence E. Wilson, prison warden.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today that the policy of the department is to prohibit writings or publications which propound racial descrimination or the destruction of any race.

The plaintiffs in the suits are Joel Beverly, 28, of San Francisco, serving a five year to life sentence for second degree murder; Billy H. Walker, 28, of Los Angeles, serving a straight life sentence for murder and a five year sentence for robbery; Raymond A. Charlot, 28, of Los Angeles serving a one year to life sentence for second degree robbery and a five to eight year sentence for selling marajuana; Claudell Cooper, 28, of Los Angeles, serving two six month to five year sentences for car theft; John A. Geeter, 32, of Los Angeles, serving a five year to life sentence for 2nd degree robbery; and Ralph R. Williams, now at the Vacaville Medical Facility, whose records are not available.

Tam Sanitary Tax Rate Cut

A budget of $36,008 meaning a four-cent drop in the tax rate, to 21 cents per $100 assessed valuation, was approved last night by directors of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District.

The budget is lower than last year's by about $300, Gale E. Bishel, chairman of board of directors, reported.

A hearing on the reduction of the yearly service charge from $30 to $29 brought no comments from district residents and directors approved the move.

Applications to fill the vacancy in the board of directors created with the resignation of Tore Noren last month will be accepted up to Sept. 14 at the district office, 305 Bell Lane.

Assessor May Face Contempt Citation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden today faced possible contempt of court action for his refusal to surrender his tax records to the grand jury.

Superior Judge Harry J. Neubarth yesterday acted on an affidavit by Dist. Atty. John Jay Ferdon. The judge ordered Wolden to appear Friday morning to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court.

Scout Mends Rapidly From Lightning Bolt

Boy Scout Jay Lehmann, 15, of San Rafael wolfed down a big breakfast in hospital today as one sure sign to doctors he is recovering from burns he received when his tent was struck by a bolt of lightning during a Sierra thunderstorm early yesterday.

A spokesman at Miners Hospital in Nevada City, Nevada County, reported: "He is sitting up in bed and we can't stop him asking questions about his pals back at camp."

The accident occurred while Jay was at camp with other scouts of Troop No. 57 of San Rafael near Chubb Lake, about eight miles from Emigrant Gap in Placer County.

Lightning struck a nearby tree, glanced off and hit the boy's tent. Bedding on which he was sitting was set afire. He suffered burns on his feet and stomach.

Jay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lehmann, 28 Jewell Street arrived at his hospital bedside last night.

Another scout who shared Jay's tent, Roger Thomas, 15, of 88 Jewel Street, San Rafael was released from the hospital after treatment for a minor burn on a leg.

Sale At Hamilton

Miscellaneous clothing and hardware will be sold by the Defense Surplus Sales Office in a bid sale Aug. 31, at Hamilton Air Force Base. Further information may be obtained at Building 727 on the base.

Loon gulls dive so deep for fish they have been known to have been caught in fish nets.

San Rafael Helicopter Landing Pads Approved

American Helicopters of Novato was issued a use permit last night for two landing and take-off pads near San Rafael's Francisco Boulevard for nonscheduled flights.

The San Rafael Planning Commission issued the permit, which must be renewed at the end of a year, with the provision that there be no fuel storage on the site, located at 1075 Francisco Boulevard, east of Bellam Boulevard and south of the sewer plant.

Representatives of the helicopter firm said the pads will be used for brief touchdowns five or six times daily, with its base of operations remaining in Novato. The company plans to set up an office in the nearby Kerner-Bellam Realty Building.

Commissioners also recommended that the city change the name of West End Avenue, between Marquard and First streets, to Second Street, a change made necessary by the widening of Second Street to prepare for the city's planned one-way street system.

City Planner George H. Rodgers said several houses will have to be renumbered. The street actually will cease to be a separate thoroughfare and will become the eastbound lanes of Second Street.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Granted David Stadtner of 40 St. Francis Lane a variance permit for a front setback as small as three feet, six inches at one point so he can build a carport. A 15 foot setback is normally required.
2. Renewed for one year a use permit for three directional and identification signs, including one at Third and Irwin streets, for Peacock Gap, Inc. but asked the firm to submit a separate application for two signs dividing the area from Glenwood.
3. Approved plans for Donald Sherwood to alter a building at 817 D Street.

The meeting was the last for City Planner George H. Rodgers. His resignation takes effect Sunday.

Boy's Body Found In Sierra River

SONORA (UPI)—The body of a San Jose boy who disappeared while on a camping trip with his parents during the July 4 weekend was found yesterday in the Middle Fork of Stanislaus River.

The Tuolumne County sheriff's office said the body of John Flavin, was discovered wedged in rocks near where his parents had set up their camp.

Deputies said he disappeared after he sajd he was going to wash his hands in the river and then sit on the bank and watch for deer.

Planners Oppose Whirling Signs

San Rafael planning commissioners showed little sympathy last night for signs that go 'round and 'round.

They considered two such signs, effectively turning one down and approving the other only on the condition that it be made to stand still.

First one was a revolving clock - thermometer which San Rafael Savings and Loan Assn. wanted to hang on its building at 874 Fourth Street.

Commissioners agreed that they liked every part of the sign except the rotating feature. They split 3-3 in a vote to approve the design, with Commissioners V. Judson Klein, Pat Hetherton and John Miskimen voting against it.

The dissenters said they feared approval would set a precedent for all manner of spinning, whirling and twisting signs on Fourth Street.

A second sign asked by the firm, to face Fifth Avenue from the rear of the building, was approved.

The other rotating sign was asked by Texaco, Inc., at its station in the Northgate Shopping Center.

The firm asked to erect two signs, one on the roof of the station and the other freestanding, to replace the present 37 foot high one, about which many area residents have complained to the oil firm.

Commissioners approved the signs as requested, with one exception: they said the 21 foot high freestanding one must not rotate.

Committee Named To Steer Anti-Narcotics Education

A group of Marin County citizens last night launched the first combined counter offensive in the battle against local narcotic problems when they agreed on the need for greater child education in the dangers of drug addiction.

About 100 educators, law enforcement officers, health and social workers meeting with others in Marin Civic Center decided to form a resource committee to advise in the preparation of curriculum publications for narcotic education in schools.

"This must be a community project to succeed. Unless each section of the community contributes what it can, this battle will never be won," said Dr. Oliver Byrd, head of the department of health education at Stanford University's School of Education.

Dr. Byrd led the general discussion at the meeting which was called by Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County Superintendent of Schools.

Although some speakers differed in their interpretation of the form narcotic education should take, all agreed that schools will play the most important role in the battle against this problem.

Educators should not be afraid to teach children the facts about drug addiction, Dr. Byrd declared.

"Of course, in this field there is a risk of abnormal stimulation," he said.

Unboiled Water Ban Is Lifted

A three-week ban on drinking unboiled water in Inverness Park was lifted today by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Dr. Albrecht said tests have shown "consistently satisfactory samples since July 27. While the water may appear a little dirty at times, it is bacteriologically safe."

Inverness Park residents were warned on July 19 to boil their water 10 minutes before drinking it.

Richardson Bay Shifts Voted By Supervisors

Marin County supervisors yesterday passed an amendment to the Richardson Bay Master Plan which would allow the development proposed by the Bothin Real Estate Co.

Bothin's proposed development covering about 100 acres would include a marina, motel, apartments and a shopping center.

The amendment covers the area northwest of Richardson Bay Bridge, between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. right-of-way and Saucelito Canal.

The change permits an undulating shoreline, compared to the straight shoreline originally planned, and it permits resort-commercial recreation uses in the area.

There were no protests at the hearing which was mild compared to earlier stormy sessions on the Richardson Bay plan.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs emphasized that the board was in no way acting on the Bothin development plan, but supervisors commended the firm for imaginative planning which was both in private and public interest.

Dobbs said the plan would not be submitted to the board until after a hearing on planned community district zoning for the area Aug. 30.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss questioned the proposed elimination of the planned marina green under Bothin's proposal.

"I'm worried," he said. "We don't want to close in too much in that area."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen hailed the Bothin plan as an example of private development of recreational facilities "that will enable the county to find other marina greens with public funds."

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said that, subject to a permit, filling in the area will start in a week on the project.

Dobbs estimated that about 28 acres would be filled, but that the ratio of water to land probably will exceed that set under the master plan.

Frost reported that he and Supervisor Peter H. Behr are scheduled to meet with Army Corps of Engineers officials next Monday to "discuss getting the Corps "moving again" on the project.

The board received a letter from the city of Mill Valley endorsing the amendment to the plan, as the aftermath of a joint meeting of Mill Valley and county planning commissions.

The vote to amend the plan was 4-0 with Supervisor Peter H. Behr absent.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Set the fee for room and board at Juvenile Hall at $5 a day effective Sept. 17, a reduction from the current charge of $16.20 a day.

2. Set Aug. 24 at 2:30 p.m. for a hearing on the county park and recreation plan, and received a letter from the San Anselmo City Council unanimously endorsing the plan.

3. Approved an agreement with the Marin Museum Assn. to conduct a fine arts exhibit at the Civic Center next spring.

4. Approved in principle the employment of county social workers for night and weekend emergency service under a proposed program to be administered by Catholic Social Service.

5. Approved a mutual aid agreement for emergency fire protection with San Quentin State Prison Fire Department.

6. Approved an agreement with Stone and Youngberg, financial consultants, to handle the sale of $7,750,000 in bonds for the Hall of Justice, at a fee of $4,500.

7. Hired Louise Jennings, key punch operator, at $362 a month, data processing department; Klara M. Larsen, deputy clerk, $345, municipal court; Carol Lee Martin, intermediate typist clerk, $345, sheriff's office; Toni Anne Seaton, intermediate typist clerk, $345, planning department; Lynn Schwartz, intermediate typist clerk, part-time, $172.50, health department; Jo Anne Smith, library assistant, part-time, $208.78, county libraray; James Cavallero, fire warden II, $486, fire department.

8. Set for Aug. 24 at 2:30 p.m., a hearing on an amendment to the Marinwood Master Plan which would designate a 5.5 acre parcel northwest of Las Gallinas Avenue and Ellen Drive as a church site. The parcel is now a portion of a 15.9 acre parcel designated for single-family residential use.

9. Set for Aug. 31 at 2 p.m., a hearing on proposed resort-commercial recreation zoning for property owned by Bahia Baulines Inc. and George P. and Wilma Leonard along Bolinas Lagoon, combined with a hearing on open area zoning for the lagoon, including Bolinas Harbor District lands.

10. Set for Aug. 31 at 10 a.m., the opening of bids on the sale of bonds for the Greenhill Road-Vernal Avenue Improvement project, Homestead Valley.

11. Approved the plans and specifications for the improvement of Reed Boulevard and called for bids to be opened Aug. 30 at 10:30 a.m.

12. Postponed until next Tuesday consideration of a tentative map of Sherman Oaks, a proposed 41-acre subdivision, northwest of Butterfield Road and Oak Knoll Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

13. Passed a resolution praising the Inverness Fair to be held Saturday and Sunday at St. Columba's Episcopal Church.

14. Approve loans of $1,859,092 to the San Rafael High School District, $1,373,326 to the San Rafael Elementary School District and $1,135,000 to the Novato Unified School District until districts receive their tax monies.

Convict Escapes Detention Room In Contra Costa

Donald Duane Dacey, 29, an inmate of San Quentin Prison with a thirst for freedom, pried his way to freedom yesterday with another convict while they were being held for appearance on robbery charges at the Contra Costa County court building in Richmond.

Dacey, who fled from the San Quentin honor camp last December only to be captured after a wild chase in Riverside County 15 days later, escaped with Francis Lee Arnold, 23, by prying the bolts off a detention room window with a tool which police speculated had been secreted to the room earlier.

While on his flight in December, Dacey had been stopped twice by police officers and both times sent his 'pursuer' running by pulling a gun and ordering him away.

Hospitalized McCarthy 'Feeling Fine'

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, was "feeling fine" at University of California Medical Center this morning and hopes to be out in less than a week.

McCarthy, 41, minority leader of the State Se nate, collapsed last Friday while on a Canadian fishing expedition and entered the hospital Monday for a complete physical checkup.

This morning, the senator answered the telephone from his hospital bed with a booming:

"Hello; I'm feeling just fine! Obviously, there is nothing seriously wrong with me."

McCarthy said he just "passed out" aboard a fishing boat about 150 miles north of Prince George, Canada. He was hospitalized at Prince George, then flew back to Sacramento. He drove from Sacramento to San Francisco on Monday to enter the hospital.

Military Policeman

George D. Adams III, 22, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Banigan, 2 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley, will graduate Sept. 17 after Military Police training at Ford Ord, Monterey County. A reserve policeman at Fairfax before entering the service, Adams was formerly employed as a driver by the Yellow Cab Co., Mill Valley.

San Rafael Slope Law Sent To City Council

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night approved drafts of the proposed slope and cluster housing policies and sent them on to the city council for final adoption.

It was the second time the slope policy was sent to the council, but the first time the cluster policy has gone that far.

To the slope policy, commissioners added a section saying lots on sub-standard streets (less than 26 feet wide) must have at least 100 feet of frontage when the street is not likely to be widened.

It taak three votes of the commission, however, to get it approved in that form.

Commissioner V. Judson Klein stirred a debate when he insisted his colleagues should reconsider their earlier decision to allow slopes to be measured after grading. Other commissioners said the council had sent the policy back only for approval of the clause on sub-standard streets.

Klein moved that the sentence about measuring after grading be deleted. The vote deadlocked 3-3, with Commissioners Carl S. Brown, Thomas R. O'Toole and Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. dissenting.

In an effort to break the deadlock, commissioner John A. Miskimen moved to approve the policy with the sub-standard street clause, leaving in the part about grading. However, this too came to a 3-3 vote, as Klein, Robbins and Commissioner Pat Hetherton voted no.

Moments later, Robbins switched his vote to yes. Klein then demanded a new vote in hopes of passing it unanimously. The effort failed, however, when Hetherton again voted no, so that the final vote was recorded as 5-1.

The cluster policy, termed a "planned unit development proposal for amendment to the zoning ordinance," was passed in a slightly revised form submitted just before the meeting by Rodgers. It was first passed 5-1, with Brown voting no, but he quickly changed his vote to make it unanimous.

Marines Change Recruit Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marines are changing their recruiting policy to meet an authorized 30,000 increase in their active strength.

A spokesman said they now will try to sign up a limited number of immediate active duty reservists.

This means the men will be recruited as reserves, but will serve a two-year hitch before reverting to that status.

The regular Marine enlistment is for four years.

Novato May Abandon Diagonal Parking Habit

The City of Novato may eliminate angle parking on Grant Avenue throughout the business district.

The council last night set 8 p.m., Aug. 24, for a public hearing on eliminating all angle parking on the main business street.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works and member of the traffic safety committee, made the recommendation to the council.

There are now 203 diagonal parking spaces and 46 parallel parking spaces on Grant Avenue. The change would make 166 parking spaces, eliminating 83 of them by changing from diagonal to parallel parking, Coleman reported.

Coleman said that the reasons for the change were that diagonal parking is slowing down the flow of traffic, it causes minor accidents and that cars are damaging the trees on Grant Avenue.

He also said that the state of California prohibits the use of gas tax money for the improvement of a city street where there is diagonal parking, however, it can use gas tax money for maintenance, he said.

The council also introduced an ordinance limiting to 72 hours, the time which a car can be parked on a city street. It is now 112 hours, Coleman said.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Heard a report from Coleman that the Olive Avenue assessment bids were higher than the engineers estimate. The low bid of $54,324 of Soiland Co. of Novato, was $6,184 higher than the engineers estimate. Cutting down the extra work allowance, the engineers fees, and raising the bond discount to 99 per cent will be considered next Tuesday.

2. Authorized deeding to the Marin County Flood Control District certain property now in the city name. Lies in back of the lot owned by Vernon Rodeck at 95 Grove Lane on Warner Creek.

3. Approved city annexation of approximately three acres on Center Road and Theresa Court and seven and one half acres, owned by Roberts and Aguirre adjacent to the Novato Sanitary District office at the end of Davidson Street.

4. Introduced an amendment to the newly enacted solicitor's ordinance where by the city manager and finance officer can issue a license to a solicitor for $50 per year or $5 per day.

5. Awarded a contract to C and C Automotive of 496 Olive Avenue, Novato, the lowest of five bidders, for repair of the city owned vehicles with $8 per hour flat charge and certain jobs specified by cost and parts discount.

6. Passed an ordinance extending the time from July 31 to Aug. 31 for obtaining dog licenses.

7. Heard that the Ridgeway Dog Kennels on Shady Lane and Fabian Bobo of 1470 Novato Boulevard were not in violation of the city ordinances at the present time. The city had received complaints of the noise and odor.

8. Heard that the City of Novato apparently may now license television antennae services and set the meeting of Sept. 14 for a hearing on the matter.

9. Approved July salaries of $47,908 and July claims for $18,941.

10. Adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday for public hearings on the establishment of the Olive Avenue Assessment District and the Center Road Improvement Project No. 2.

The mole is a morose underground creature and, except at mating time, rarely chooses to live with another member of the species.

New Air Cushion Craft Has Hitch

OAKLAND (AP) — The Air Cushion Vehicle made its debut on San Francisco Bay yesterday with only a slight hitch.

The ACV, which combines some features of an airplane and a boat, inaugurated service from Oakland Airport to downtown San Francisco and San Francisco Airport.

The craft—powered by a 1,000 horsepower gas turbine that creates a cushion of air on which it rides — picked up a dozen newsmen for a ride around the bay.

About 200 yards out it settled into the water and just drifted.

Pilot Cliff Vierra explained the throttle was stuck on idle, threw out an anchor and everybody waited about an hour until help arrived.

Lawmakers Studying Change In Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may be a bit closer to reckoning its weights and measures in meters, kilograms and liters.

The House Science and Astronautics Committee sent a bill to the House Tuesday authorizing a three-year, $2.5-million study of the advantages of shifting to the metric system.

Convicts Offered New Program For Parolees

Nearly 200 San Quentin Prison inmates, all within a few weeks of parole, will meet tonight to learn about a promising new program designed to help more of them stay on the outside once they get there.

The plan, which has been tried with some success at the Kansas State Prison in Langsing, applies some of the same principles used by such groups as Alcoholics Anonymous and Synanon.

It is sponsored by the Seven Step Foundation, an organization deriving its name from a seven-part credo, each step of which starts with a letter from the word "freedom."

Among its backers are James O'Toole, himself a former inmate of Oregon State Prison, James Emerson, a Kansas newspaperman who helped set up the program in his home state, and Charles B. White, a retired San Quentin associate warden.

The foundation, according to White, takes its motto from the words of Christ: "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

It also operates on an assumption which parallels one of the keystones of the Alcoholic Anonymous approach. Where as AA believes that "it takes an ex-alcoholic to reach an alcoholic," Seven Step Foundation feels that no one can offer a newly paroled convict as much aid, comfort or understanding as another ex-convict.

Tonight's session will be the first thrown open to inmates who might volunteer for the program. A previous meeting brought the foundation officials together with a 30-member inmate planning committee.

White said 190 inmates have signed up for the meeting at 6 p.m. today. There, they will learn about such details as the pre-parole classes which the foundation hopes to schedule for all inmates within 120 days of parole.

At such classes, White said, inmates will be encouraged to voice their resentments: toward each other, toward themselves, towards prison officials, relatives and the world in general.

The primary goal, he explained, will be to chip away at the dream world in which most prisoners have been living since they entered prison—and probably long before.

"We want to get them down to earth, where they can start thinking realistically about themselves," White said.

Planned soon are post-release classes, in which parolees can get together weekly to compare frustrations and continue airing their resentments during the difficult period of seeking work and trying to adjust to the outside world.

Parolees will be aided in this period by "sponsors" who will help them find a job and give them someone to turn to if the going gets rough. Later a parolee will be expected to repay his sponsor for whatever money has been spent in the process.

The foundation plans to invite representatives of labor and management to a dinner at 6 p.m. next Wednesday at the prison to encourage their help in the program. Potential sponsors also will be there, White said.

Main speaker will be former San Quentin inmate William P. Sands, whose book, "My Shadow Ran Fast" is now a best seller.

The foundation's seven steps, briefly, lay out a blueprint for rehabilitation which involves self-evaluation, belief in a higher power, overcoming resentments and setting daily goals for betterment. The final step states that, "maintaining our freedom, we pledge ourselves to help others as we have been helped."

The program has been underway nearly two years in Lansing. Of 300 parolees who took part, according to White, only 27 have returned to prison.

This means that 91.6 per cent of them have, so far at least, stayed on the outside, as contrasted with statistics before the program began, when no more than 35 per cent stayed out.

Portugal President

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Adm. Americo Thomaz, 70, has been sworn in for a second seven-year term as president of Portugal.

Judge Reverses Phone Judgment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Superior Court judge has reversed a $1.5 million judgment attorney Arthur Garrett won recently against Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Judge Delbert E. Wong ordered a new trial, he said yesterday, because the jury verdict was the result of "passion and prejudice" and was not supported by evidence.

Garrett contended that the telephone company deliberately disrupted his service when he criticized the company while running for city attorney in 1961. He said he was forced to withdraw from the contest partly because of the interrupted telephone service.

New Plea Set For Widening Span Ramps

Golden Gate Bridge District spokesmen plan to go before the State Highway Commission in San Francisco next Wednesday to ask for revival of a $7.5 million project to widen the bridge approach through the Presidio.

At yesterday's meeting of the bridge district's Building and Operating committee, District Mgr. James Adam reminded that as far back as 1954, the state began planning to expand to eight lanes, the six-lane approach which the bridge district built but which was taken over by the state in 1954.

BILL DIES

A bill to return the approach to district control died in committee during the last session of the Legislature, Adam said.

Meanwhile, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors' refusal to approve freeway plans through the city from the Bay Bridge to the Golden Gate span led the state to strike $5.1 million from its 1963-64 budget as a federal and state share of the approach project and abandon right-of-way negotiations with the Army.

However, Adams reported, informal talks with the state have led to hopes that the widening project might be shared between the state and district, provided the approach remain in the interstate system.

Bridge board committee members, in approving the appeal to the highway commission, stressed that plans should take into consideration any possible future construction of a second deck on the bridge.

ONE-WAY TOLL

In other discussions at a series of committee meetings yesterday, finance committee chairman William D. Hadeler called for a new meeting on the one-way toll proposal, although Building and Operating committee chairman Dan E. London objected that his committee's studies are not yet completed.

Hadeler cited a 50-page traffic engineer's report as giving sufficient data for a prompt decision. It was agreed that a joint finance and building and operating committee meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Sept. 8 on the issue.

County Declares War On Bootleg Subdividers

Marin County supervisors gave notice yesterday that they mean to crack down on "bootleg" subdividing which violates county law.

They directed Planning Director B. D. Hobbs to investigate violations and turn the evidence over to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who will assume the task of prosecuting such violations Sept. 1.

Dobbs said that during equalization hearings, the board became aware of parcels in West Marin that were not on a subdivision map.

Dobbs said he felt the illegal lot splits have dwindled since the county enacted a lot-split ordinance regulating divisions of land into three or less parcels.

"We want them stopped," said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

Dobbs said the violations could be stopped "as soon as we get a willingness to prosecute."

He said the planning staff has taken cases to Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, some of which he felt had aspects of felony, but they were not prosecuted.

Supervisors asked Dobbs about one case under investigation in West Marin, but Dobbs said the statute of limitations had run out because a year had passed.

In early 1965 there were 24,186 board members directing county government affairs in the 3,049 counties of the United States. That's an average of eight per county.

Sausalitan Pleads Innocent To Charge

Carl Alvis, 24, of Sausalito, pleaded innocent to two charges of sex perversion yesterday in Santa Rosa Municipal Court.

Alvis, who lives on a houseboat on the Kappas Yacht Harbor, denied charges by a Santa Rosa mother that he had performed perverted sex acts with her 13-year-old son on July 2 and again on July 9. Preliminary examination of the case will begin on Aug. 25 in Santa Rosa Municipal Court.

FIREMEN ASK LOCATIONS OF INVALID CASES

Sausalito firemen are requesting anyone in the city who has an invalid residing in his home to tell the department so that firemen may immediately aid the ill person from the house in case of fire.

Firemen plan to mark houses in which invalids reside with small disks, if residents desire it, which will warn of a person who might be trapped in an emergency.

Reed School Trustees Vote Administration Pay Raises

The three principals and Supt. Edward C. Pino of the Reed Union School District were granted pay raises by district trustees last night.

Pino's salary went from $19,000 yearly to $20,000, after trustees met in closed session to discuss it.

Pino said that the closed portion of last night's trustee meeting at Del Mar School was requested by him because the "result of their (trustee) discussions might have resulted in termination of my contract."

Closed meetings of public governing bodies are not allowed for salary discussion, under state law, but only for consideration of hiring, firing or hearing charges against employees.

Trustees in open session approved raises for district principals John Fitch and Robert Gaw each from $13,500 yearly to $14,500. The third principal, Jack Usilton, won a raise from $11,500 to $13,500 during the open discussion.

Trustees also gave informal approval to plans which would grant pay hikes to qualified teachers beyond the present pay scale and make grants available to teachers for research work.

The consensus of trustee opinion, Pino said, was to approve a plan which would grant specified teachers $700 additional pay yearly for college study beyond that set on the pay scale.

To gain the extra pay, teachers would have to have been employed by the district for four years, be rated as "superior" staff members, have completed 60 hours of graduate work (including obtaining a master's degree) and be working toward completion of 70 hours.

Labor-business Union

DETROIT (AP) — It will be a case of business joining labor when the son of Commerce Secretary John T. Connor marries the daughter of Michigan's AFL-CIO chief, August (Gus) Scholle. John Connor Jr., 24, and Susan Scholle, 21, are engaged to be married in December.

RESCUED—Thomas A. Clennan, 39, a transient with a long record for forgery, is rescued yesterday by firemen after he nearly suffocated overnight in the ventilator shaft of a downtown Los Angeles clothing manufacturing building. Police said they would seek a burglary complaint against him.

District Pay In Homestead Valley Told

As a public service, the Independent-Journal today continues its publication of salaries of public employees by listing the payroll of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District.

Board secretary Gus F. Wolf receives $1,230 annually, of which $1,200 is for expenses. He also is paid $120 yearly for attendance as a member of the board of directors.

Board president Warren I. Jacobs is paid $240 yearly for attendance at directors' meetings, while Directors Kenyon Spalding and Robert E. Swendeman receive $120 yearly for attendance. One vacancy now exists on the board. Directors must have perfect attendance to receive the full amounts shown.

The district has no other employees.

50 Automobile Gas, Radiator Caps Are Stolen

Fifty automobile gasoline and radiator caps and about 30 fender emblems, stolen from vehicles in Terra Linda over the past several days, have been recovered with apprehension by sheriff's officers of three youths.

William Johansen, sheriff's juvenile officer, said the youths, aged 13 and 14, admitted taking the items. They were cited to appear at the sheriff's juvenile bureau today.

Also cited to appear today was a 14-year-old Marinwood boy who admitted taking a .22 caliber pistol last Thursday in a breakin of the home of Stanley K. Goldsmith, 405 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood.

Officers said the youth entered via a bathroom window. The gun and an attached scope — total value of $150 — have been recovered in a field behind Miller Creek School in Marinwood, Johansen said.

Death In Viet Nam

Koufax Wins His 20th As Dodgers Nip Mets

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax doesn't want any relief, but he thinks he'll need some to win 30 games.

The inimitable Koufax discussed that elusive plateau after becoming the majors' first 20-game winner in the Los Angeles' Dodgers 4-3 triumph over the New York Mets last night. He also talked about his physical condition.

"I feel a little tired," he admitted, "but after a couple of nights sleep I'm always ready again. It would help if the weather got a little cooler. But I'm not looking for any rest. I still want to pitch every fourth day.

"I have a chance to win 30, but I would have to win every start. I really don't think I'll get 30 because you have to pick up some in relief, and I doubt that I" be doing that."

If Koufax continues pitching every fourth day, he will have 12 more starts, enough so that he could afford to lose a couple and still become the first to win 30 since Dizzy Dean did it in 1934.

It's even possible that Manager Walt Alston will call upon the left-handed ace for some relief duty if the National League pennant race remains as close as it is now. The Dodgers lead San Francisco by only one game and Milwaukee and Cincinnati by two each.

Koufax, who has lost four games, isn't concerned that his arthritic left elbow suddenly will start acting up after leaving him alone for 28 starts, 19 of which he has completed.

When the season started, I was pressing a bit, waiting for something to happen," he explained. "But everything worked out, and I don't worry about it anymore."

Koufax leaves the worrying to the other teams. In striking out 14 Mets, he raised his major league-leading total to 267, just 81 away from Bob Feller's all-time season record. He also extended his career mark with the Mets to 13-0 and became the earliest 20-game winner since teammate Don Drysdale won his 20th on Aug. 3, 1962.

In other NL games, San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 4-3, Milwaukee downed St. Louis 5-3, Cincinnati trimmed Chicago 6-2 and Philadelphia beat Houston 2-0.

In the American League, Minnesota stopped New York 7-3, Baltimore crushed Boston 12-4 after losing 15-5, Los Angeles defeated Cleveland 5-2, Detroit blanked Kansas City 3-0 and Chicago whipped Washington 6-0.

Koufax blanked the Mets on three hits until the eighth when singles by Bobby Klaus and Roy McMillan plus Charlie Smith's double and Joe Christopher's sacrifice fly brought in two runs. Then Ron Swoboda homered in the ninth. Ron Fairly's single and Wes Parker's triple brought in what turned out to be the deciding run in the Los Angeles sixth.

Ed Mathews drove in three runs, two with his 25th homer that snapped a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning, as the Braves beat St. Louis and Bob Gibson, now 14-9. Tony Cloninger scattered seven hits, bringing his record to 16-8.

Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson led a Cincinnati attack that carried Sammy Ellis to his 15th victory against seven defeats. Robinson highlighted the Red's three-run first inning with a two-run double while Pinson doubled and socked his 18th home run.

Jim Bunning set Houston down on five hits and figured in both of the Phillies' runs. The pitcher sacrificed Bobby Wine to second from where he scored on John Briggs' single in the fifth. Bunning, now 14-7 with two straight shutouts, also singled in the eight and scored as John Callison singled.

PICK-OFF ATTEMPT FAILS — Giants shortstop Dick Schofield barely gets back to the bag in time on a pick off play at second base during the first inning of yesterday's game at Candlestick Park. Pittsburgh second baseman Bill Mazeroski stopped the wild throw from catcher Jim Pagliaroni. Calling the play is umpire Bill Williams. (AP Wirephoto)

Wet PGA Tourney Starts Tomorrow

Defending Champion Likes Rain

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Nichols is no friend of fair weather. He likes it rainy and damp.

And he hopes the chilling wetness that has enveloped these Western Pennsylvania highlands holds right through the four days of the Professional Golfers' Association Championship opening tomorrow.

"This is my kind of weather," said the defending PGA champion yesterday during a practice round at the Laurel Valley Club.

He stood in the drizzle and looked at the gloomy skies. "I like to play in weather like this," he said. "I like my shots to go out there and hold.It's much better for me than when it's dry and fast, and the ball rolls."

Rain hit this area last week after a long dry spell, and it's made a considerable difference in the rolling, 7,090-yard Laurel Valley layout.

The course is playing longer. The balls are hitting and holding on the fairways and greens, and in the rough and mushy traps.

"Outside the weather, I think the par 3 holes will be the deciding factor," Nichols continued. "They're unusually long and tough, particularly the eighth hole. A lot of players are going to need woods on these."

Laurel Valley's par 3 holes are No. 5, 216 yards; No. 8, 238 yards; No. 14, 190 yards, and No. 17, 230 yards.

But the handsome, husky Kentuckian—a noted long-ball hitter—figures to profit on the par 5s. They are Nos. 3, 6 and 11, and range 505 yards up.

"I've been reaching those in two, which means they're good possible birdies for me," he said.

As the defending champion and a slugger on a course that favors sluggers, Nichols is in the upper echelon among the field of 167 entered in the four-day, 72-hole event.

The favorite is Jack Nicklaus, the chunky Masters champion who comes into the PGA after two rich tour victories in a row. Right behind is South Africa's Gary Player, the U.S. Open winner, and such prominent tourists as Tony Lema and Billy Casper.

If it were up to the fans, however, it would be Arnold Palmer in a landslide. This is the slumping belter's native territory, and Laurel Valley is, in fact, his home club.

But the consensus among more objective types is that it will take more than signs, billboards and cheers to bring Palmer in. He has been off-form, at one phase of his game or another, for some time, while Nicklaus and Player, in particular, have been steadily swinging upward.

The field will be cut to low 70 and ties after Friday's second round.

Portions of the final two rounds will be carried on network television by ABC Saturday and Sunday.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Giants Are Providing Interesting, Provocative Baseball For Fans

CONNOLLY

Highly interesting, certainly provocative basball.

That's the slant the San Francisco Giants offer as the team gayly continues the most serious aspect of its pennant scramble.

It is exciting to watch a long hitting ball club arouse the curiosity of fandom. The S.F. team has been doing that consistently. Its trademark has been the home run. Jesus Alou, Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Hart and Tom Haller are the heavy bombers, a sort of murderers row specializing in extra base hits and long powering home run drives that clear the far-away fences.

PROVOCATIVE baseball comes to the foreground when these same big blasters slump badly to irritate their followers. Or when the pitching goes sour.

Manager Herman Franks has come up with a new wrinkle in relief pitching tactics. By constantly bringing in his bullpen pitchers, he inadvertently got them in shape so that his relievers are working almost identically with his starters. The rapidity with which Franks has beckoned his bullpen has wiser and older hands puzzled. They used to refer to those tactics as a manager "chewing up his pitching staff." But in the case of the Giants, it has worked out just the opposite. Today the Giant bullpen is known as the rescue squad. Everybody has to be ready and the calls have been coming with such regularity the whole gang of pitchers are in a frenzy from start to finish. No one knows on which pitch he may get the call to arms.

OF LATE, AND thanks again to recklessness of manager Franks, the entire pitching corps is ready and with the club hitting up to its potential these two units make the outlook for the rest of the way really promising.

The silver lining in the clouds as far as Giant pitching goes is the possibilities of Warren Spahn and Jack Sanford bolstering the regular starters. If either or both are able to go 5 or 6 innings without getting maimed they'll be a terrific lift to an otherwise sturdy staff of Juan Marichal, Bob Shaw, Bob Bolin, Gaylord Perry and Ron Herbel. The bullpen heroes of course are Masanori Murakami, Frank Linzy, Herbel and Bolin with the latter two taking a starting crack every so often.

MAYBE YOU think he is an exasperating player—great one day, awful the next. But until somebody better comes along, we've got to string along with Willie McCovey as a top flight first base performer for the Giants. He took over when Orlando Cepeda fell apart and today he is recognized around the National League as one of the most dangerous hitters. Twenty-seven home runs is proof of that claim.

But in addition to hitting the long ball, McCovey contributes more than his share as a defensive first sacker. He's made fewer mistakes and more good plays in 1965 than he ever did in prior years.

IN A WAY it is unfortunate for McCovey that Orlando Cepeda and former manager Alvin Dark didn't see eye to eye. If they had, Cepeda today would have been a recognized outfielder and McCovey (as he is now) the regular Giant first baseman.

But with McCovey swallowing his pride and bowing to Cepeda, the latter was installed as the Giant regular first sacker. Dark never approved of the arrangement but he was powerless to interfere. In those days, Cepeda's words were law.

TODAY CEPEDA already has informed Franks he'll be very happy to take another crack at outfielding and would rather not disturb McCovey at first base.

Meanwhile Dark, now a coach with the Cubs, just laughs and laughs. He was right in his judgment but wrong in his tactics and out of a job as a manager.

Pirate Swimmer Takes 2 Thirds

Roberta Shistar took a third in the girls 13-14 100-meter butterfly and a third in the 400-meter freestyle events to lead the Marin Pirates at the Solano Aquatic Club "A"' meet in Vallejo last weekend.

Deirdre Bullis and Cory Vidak also were individual point winners for the Pirates.

Giants Still Trailing Dodgers By 1 Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants awoke this morning still one game back of the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

They could have got out of bed four percentage points ahead of the Dodgers. But Los Angels did the routine last night by beating the New York Mets 4-3.

Hours earlier, the Giants won their seventh straight by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 behind the pitching of Juan Marichal and the hitting of Willie McCovey and Len Gabrielson.

Marichal won his 18th of the season against eight losses with a four-hitter. He gave up a double to Bob Bailey and a homer to Bill Virdon leading off the ninth.

But Marichal then ended the game by striking out Roberto Clemente, Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon, the power of the Pirate batting order. Clemente and Clendenon were called out.

McCovey figured in three of the runs. His double play ball in the first scored Dick Schofield. His 27th homer leading off the seventh broke a 1-1 tie.

Gabrielson knocked in the Giants' final two runs in the eighth with a bases-loaded single. McCovey, on second, barely beat Clemente's throw to the plate because of a hip bruised earlier in the contest.

"It was a little doubtful I could make it," said McCovey afterwards from a table in the trainer's room. "So I called out the manager before and told him."

Manager Herman Franks decided to leave McCovey in and Gabrielson's second hit of the game followed. Reliever Don Schwall was the pitcher at this point.

Franks also made the decision to leave Marichal in after the Pirates scored twice in the ninth. Franks implied that Marichal wouldn't have allowed the runs had not the Giants scored twice the previous inning.

"You don't think they're going to get any hits off the Dominican Dandy, do you?" asked Franks. "He just hitched up his belt and started to throw the ball again."

Marichal denied he'd relaxed with the three-run lead. He did say that the extra rest riven him the past week rejuvenated his pitching arm and allowed a sore elbow to get well.

Before taking the called third strike in the ninth, Clemente had caused Marichal trouble. The leading batter of the National League got the first Pirate hit in the third after Marichal had retired the first eight batters.

Clemente led off the seventh with a triple and scored on Clendenon's long sacrifice fly to center.

McCovey's homer off loser Don Cardwell (10-6) hit the top of the right-field foul pole and bounced into the bleachers. Pittsburgh manager Harry Walker said he didn't see the ball hit the pole. Before any of his coaches had a chance to tell Walker what had happened, he was out of the dugout to make a protest.

"I just didn't see the ball hit the pole, that's all," said Walker. "But Alex (coach Grammas) saw it and told me afterwards."

The Giants called on Gaylord Perry (8-9) today to try for their eighth straight with the Pirates' Bob Friend (5-9) slated to oppose him.

Former N.Y. Met Goes To Braves

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The New York Mets, who recently sold outfielder Billy Cowan to their Buffalo farm club, report that he has been re-sold by Buffalo to the Milwaukee Braves.

The announcement yesterday said in exchange for Cowan the Mets will receive an undesignated play, within the next week and another player at the end of the season.

Marin Drivers Cop Honors At Petaluma

San Rafael drivers placed first in the second, third and fourth heats and a Mill Valley leadfoot was third in the main event at Saturday night's hardtop races at Petaluma.

Jim Giambra won the second heat, followed by Chuck Louwaert, also of San Rafael; Mike Kennedy was first in the third heat and Bob Buell won the fourth heat.

Bob Filippi of Mill Valley was third in the main event which was won by Tom Abreu of Castro Valley.

49ers Name Mike Dowdle As Captain

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — Middle linebacker Mike Dowdle was named by the coaches yesterday as captain of the San Francisco 49ers for the 1965 National Football League season.

Dowdle succeeds corner linebacker Matt Hazeltine, team captain the past three seasons. Dowdle originally was a fullback at Texas, but was shifted eventually by the 49ers to linebacker. He might have to miss Sunday's pre - season opener in San Francisco against the Cleveland Browns because of a minor knee injury.

The quarterback will be the offensive captain this season. There also will be an offensive line captain chosen for each game in order to give two players the authority to call time outs.

After a routine double drill, the coaching staff watched films of the NFL champion Browns in their contest last Friday against the College All Stars in Chicago.

MARIN 'STARS' GRID SERIES BEGINS TODAY

A series of stories introducing players for the Marin County North-South All-Star prep football game, scheduled Aug. 26 in Kentfield, starts today in the Independent-Journal sports section.

First story in the series, written by I-J sports writer Ralph Chatoian, appears on page 20, introducing the four quarterbacks for the game.

The series will be continued on a daily basis.

Dowler Was Star Prep Hurdler

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Boyd Dowler, star end for the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, still holds the Wyoming state high school record for the 120-yard high hurdles.

Dowler set the record of 14.6 seconds while a senior at Cheyenee High in 1954.

WHAT A SWIMMER!

12-Year-Old Girl Has World Mark

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Karen Muir, a timid, 12-year-old swimmer from South Africa, has issued a blaring challenge to teen-age water wonders everywhere.

The gangling, fair-haired schoolgirl from the diamond mining center of Kimberly came up with the most glittering performance ever by an athlete her age yesterday — a world record in the 110-yard backstroke at the British Swimming Championships.

Miss Muir became the youngest competitor, either male or female, on record to break a world mark in a major sport with her time of 1:08.7 in a girls class preliminary heat. She did not enter the senior event.

"Karen has the greatest potential of any swimmer in the world," South African Coach Alex Bulley said of the shy, 111-pound youngster who took up swimming three years ago to help build her confidence. "There is no limit to what she can do."

Miss Muir bettered by eight-tenths of a second the pending world record set only two weeks ago by 17-year-old Linda Ludgrove of London. "I'm an ex-champion at 17," Miss Ludgrove said after watching the record performance.

The listed world mark is 1:09.8, set by Jill Norfolk of Britain in April, 1964.

In South Africa, Mrs. Yvonne Muir, the young star's mother, said Karen had been training about five hours a day for the British Championships.

"She is a shy, reserved girl and always thought she couldn't do things properly," Mrs. Muir said. "After taking up swimming, her schoolwork improved tremendously and her confidence soared."

Norris McWhirter, British editor of Books and Records, said the only other 12-year-olds who have come close to matching Miss Muir's achievement were Sonja Henie, who won her first world figure skating title at 12, and Bernard Malivoire, 12-year-old coxwain for France's gold medal-winning coxed-pairs crew in the 1952 Olympic Games.

"By the rules of measurement," McWhirter added, "There are only five sports — swimming, track and field, shooting, weight lifting and cycling — in which a world record can be set.

"None of those five has any recorded history of a 12-year-old record-breaker."

Rush, Herring Sign For Rematch In S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight Elmer Rush of San Francisco has been re-matched in a 10-rounder with the only fighter ever to beat him in his 14 fights, Tod Herring of Houston, Tex., for Aug. 23 in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, promoter Abe Acquistapace announced yesterday.

INTRODUCING THE MARIN ALL-STARS

Introducing members of the North-South Marin All-Star football squads that clash Thursday night, Aug. 26, at Kentfield in a game sponsored by the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club:

THE NORTH

GARY LIEBERMAN is the quarterback who led Terra Linda High School to an 8-1 record last year with his passing and ball handling.

He finished the '64 season as the top passer in the league, completing 41 of 81 passes for 537 yards. The 5-9, 150-pound signal caller was co-captain of the Trojans and voted most valuable player by his teammates last year.

He was named to the All-Marin Athletic League first team in football and also played basketball and track during his high school days at Terra Linda.

Lieberman plans to enroll at College of Marin this semester and then hopes to enter San Francisco State College. He will be a business administration major.

DON PHILLIPS is another of the lightweight quarterbacks for the North, but the 5-7, 150-pounder was a main cog in the Novato High School Hornets offensive machine last year.

He demonstrated much poise in the QB slot for Novato, often waiting for the last second to get off his pass. He captained Novato's junior varsity team his junior year before taking over the reins of the varsity quarterback position.

He played both varsity and Class B basketball and received all-league recognition for the lightweights, and earned another varsity letter in baseball.

In league football play, he completed 23 of 51 passes for 332 yards for the Hornets last year. His future plans are indefinite.

THE SOUTH

AI SIMONTACCHI was the star quarterback for the champion Drake High School Pirates last year and ended the season as the second best passer.

Standing 6-2 and weighing 190 pounds, Al passed 59 times in league play and completed 30 of them for 498 yards, one of the reasons he was voted honorable mention All-MCAL. Before playing varsity, he was co-captain of Drake's frosh and junior varsity teams and was voted MVP of the junior varsity in 1962.

He was also named most valuable player on the J. V. baseball team but coundn't compete his senior year on varsity because of an injury.

A former vice president of the Drake Letterman Club, he plans to further his education at San Francisco State.

BILL SHINE, the six-foot, 175-pound all-round athlete for Marin Catholic, was the Wildcats' leading runner, as well as passer.

Shine was a one-man show, boasting MCAL statistics of 415 yards passing and 179 yards rushing for a total of 594 yards gained for the celler-dwelling Wildcats. Coaches in the league voted him honorable mention all-league quarterback and teammates voted him captain.

He also captained his school's varsity baseball and varsity basketball teams his senior year, and was an all-leaguer for the Marin Catholic Class B cage squad.

A former vice president of the junior class, Bill will be attending University of San Francisco.

Bit Of Bad News For Duck Hunters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal experts reported yesterday that fall flights of ducks apparently will be no better than last year and called for actions designed to increase the breeding population for next year.

Officials of Ducks Unlimited, participating in the annual meeting of the Waterfowl Advisory Committee, urged no tightening of hunting regulations and advocated more liberal rules "in those flyways where warranted."

The committee, advisory to Director John S. Gottschalk of the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, met to hear a discussion of the current status of waterfowl by Gottschalk and W.F. Crissey, director of the migratory bird populations station.

In closed meetings, the committee will consider suggestions of the bureau staff for the waterfowl hunting regulations for the 1965-66 season and make its own recommendations.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall's final decisions are expected to be announced within two weeks.

Gottschalk told the committee that the drought in recent years and large kills in Canada and the United States last year reduced the duck breeding population to the lowest level since reliable surveys were started in 1947.

"The breeding population levels must be allowed to increase materially if the number of waterfowl is ever to reach a point where good hunting can be provided for as many as 2.2 million United States hunters," Gottschalk said.

Crissey sounded the same warning.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly that the breeding population of mallards and several other important species of ducks must be allowed to increase materially before it will be possible to return to the harvest levels and hunter participation we had in the mid-1950's," he said.

The position of Ducks Unlimited was outlined in statements read by Charles B. Allen, a trustee and chairman of the organization's flyway committee, and Dale E. Whitesell, executive vice president.

Allen pointed out that Ducks Unlimited has as its first objective the raising of money in the United States to construct and maintain wetlands in Canada for continued natural production of waterfowl. He said Ducks Unlimited basically supported Crissey's production analysis, based on its own studies.

Whitesell said "Ducks Unlimited firmly believes that waterfowl regulations for 1965 should certainly not be reduced."

"On the contrary, they should be retained at last year's levels and in some instances made more liberal in those flyways where warranted."

STRETCH LEAD TO 8½

Twins Whip Yankees 7-3

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm ready for the World Series if the World Series is ready for me."

That's the closest persistent reporters came to getting Manager Sam Mele to acknowledge today that his speeding Minnesota Twins were riding on a non-stop express to the American League pennant.

Not even last night's 7-3 triumph over the New York Yankees, which boosted the Twins' first place lead over Baltimore to 8½ games, could induce Mele to abandon his calculated caution. IKT WAS Minnesota's sixth straight and 14th victory in the last 17 games.

"We've still got a long way to go," he protested. "The next three weeks are going to be rough. During that span we play the Yankees six more times, Detroit seven, Cleveland four and Chicago three. The pennant could be decided then."

Only a catastrophic collapse on their part could prevent the transplanted Twins from capturing their first pennant since 1933 when they were known as the Washington Senators. And judging from last night's performance, that is not about to happen.

Led by Zoilo Versalles, their flashy shortstop, the Twins literally ran the Yanks into the ground. They forced the once flawless Yankee defense into errors and took advantage of every lapse.

Versalles reached base against Whitey Ford in the first inning when Phil Linz fumbled his grounder, and with a daring piece of base-running, scored all the way from first as Rich Rollins stretched a hit to left field into a two-bagger.

Tony Oliva followed with a line single to center and the Twins had a 2-0 lead before Ford had retired his first batter.

The Yankees, battling back against Jim Kaat, scored in the fifth on a triple by Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer's single. They tied the score 2-2 in the seventh.

With Lopez on second and two out, Mele ordered an intentional pass to Boyer. This forced Yankee Manager Johnny Keane to use a pinch hitter for Ford, who was pitching strongly after his wobbly start. The pinch hitter, Ray Barker, singled Lopez home with the tying run but it also forced Ford out of the game."

"I was counting on that," said Mele. "I was willing to gamble that we'd score on the relief pitcher even if they tied the score.

Mele's gamble proved to be a huge success. With Pete Mikkelsen on the mound, the Twins scored five runs after two out to wrap up the decision. Again, a defensive lapse set the stage and again the Twins capitalized on the lapse.

There were runners on first and third with two out when Bob Allison tapped to the left of the mound. Mikkelsen, starting late off the mound, had to make a hurried throw to first and fired the ball wide of the mark, allowing the lead run to score.

Another run scored on Jimmie Hall's single, two more followed on Earl Battey's double and the catcher crossed the plate on a single by Don Mincher.

Mickey Mantle's home run in the bottom of the inning proved to be nothing more than a statistic. It was his 16th of the season and 470th of his career.

"We've got a pretty good lead," conceded Mele afterwards. "They've got to catch us now."

Would you say the World Series was a step closer, Sam? "Well," he said grinningly, "it would be a good three-way parlay for me. My wife is expecting our fifth child around that time and our new home in Quincy, Mass., will be finished around that time . . . but hold on, we've still got a long way to go . . ."

Ailing U.S. Tracksters Vs. Youthful Germans

AUGSBURG, Germany (UPI)—The United States track and field team depends on inspired performances from its tired ailing athletes tonight to wind up its European tour with an impressive victory over a youthful German squad.

American hopes for easy victories in several events during the first day of the men's competition were dashed when athletes failed to recover completely from injuries or unexpectedly fell ill.

Willie Davis of Warren, Ohio, one of the world's top hurdlers, was scratched from tonight's high hurdles with a pulled muscle.

Plagued by various ailments on the eve of the competition were 800 meters runner Morgan Groth of Martinez, Calif.; Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., who runs in the 1,500 meters; Art Walker of Birmingham, Ala., who is in the hop-step-and-jump; Ollan Cassell of Nutley, N.J., 400-meter runner; and sprinter Darel Newman of Visalia, Calif.

The team's taxing schedule also has tired the team considerably. The squad did not even have a compulsory practice session yesterday after arriving from its victory over the Poles at Warsaw over the weekend. The team lost to Russia at Kiev the previous weekend.

Crucial Softball Game Tonight In San Anselmo

The chips will be on the table tonight when Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo and Burbank Dairy of Santa Rosa collide at 6:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

Both teams need a win to stay in contention in the sixth annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament.

The Treemen, 1965 representatives for Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties in the State Finals at Hayward, dropped their lone tourney contest, 4-0, to Lucky 7 Golf.

Burbank Dairy, currently tied with Lucky 7 for second place with a 2-1 mark, represented the three counties in the State Finals in 1963 and 1964.

Sohner is expected to send ace righthander Morey Swarm to the mound against Burbank's Al Nott.

Nott, a veteran of seven state tournaments, blanked Hamilton Field, 1-0, Monday night to give the Defenders their lone setback against three wins.

In last night's action, Hamilton moved into undisputed possession of first place by grabbing a 5-1 victory over winless Five Star Homes (0-3). Once again, it was strong-armed righthander Dan Coleman who hurled the Airmen to victory. Coleman, who has pitched all four tourney games and who is expected to start for Hamilton against Sohner tomorrow limited the Santa Rosans to five hits.

Hamilton scored three runs in the third with Ken Brooks' second tourney homer igniting the rally. Jerry Drake singled to center with two outs to drive in the other two runs.

Five-Star Homes scored once in the fourth and had the bases loaded with two outs when Ed Burris, running from first base, ran into a ground ball which was heading for right field for the third out.

Hamilton added a pair of insurance tallies in the seventh.

After tonight's Burbank-Sohner battle, the Treemen will play Hamilton tomorrow and Deans of Marin Friday. Lucky 7 Golf and Deans meet Saturday evening and a triple-header is slated for Sunday when the tournament concludes.

The line score:

			R	H	E
Hamilton	003	000	2—5	8	1
Five-Star	000	100	0—1	5	2

WP: Coleman; LP: Burris; Home runs: Brooks (H); Attendance: 350 (estimated).

Draft Board Calls Namath For Physical

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Namath, the $400,000 rookie quarterback of the New York Jets, soon may be a $78 a month rookie in the U.S. Army, the New York Journal-American said today.

The story continued that Namath was to have taken his selective service physical at his hometown in Beaver Falls, Pa., yesterday but that it was delayed because his draft papers had been forwarded to the American Football League club's training site at Peekskill, N.Y.

Namath, a former Alabama star, is 22 and unmarried. He reportedly received $400,000 for signing with the Jets. Since then he had a cartilage removed from his right knee but has played well in several exhibitions.

Stan Harrington Whips Sugar Ray

HONOLULU (AP)—Stan Harrington outclassed Sugar Ray Robinson last night and won an easy unanimous 10-round decision over the former middleweight champion.

The fight drew only 3,800 fans at Honolulu International Center who paid a gross gate of $16,000 to see the rematch which was pretty much a carbon copy of their June fight.

Robinson made his last stand as early as the second round when he exchanged stiff punches with Harrington in midring.

But Harrington rocked him soundly in the fourth round, the best of the fight, and from then on Sugar Ray was on his bicycle in constant retreat. There were no knockdowns.

Robinson, 44, showed only flashes of his former greatness and usually for only a few seconds at a time.

By RON BERGMAN

MORAGA (AP) — John David Crow looks for a good season with the San Francisco 49ers if he can just remember where to go and when to leave.

Head coach Jack Christiansen remains unruffled about the lack of direction exhibited by his newly acquired running back. He plans to start Crow at halfback this National Football League season.

"The numbering system I've used all my life is just reversed on this club," explained the 30-year-old Crow at the 49er training camp at St. Mary's College.

Football teams use a play-designation system in which odd numbers refer to one side of the line and even numbers to the other. The 220-pound Crow is confronted with a number system diametrically opposed to those he used in high school, at Texas A&M and for seven years with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Cardinal quarterbacks also use a cadence count to call for the center snap. The 49ers use a non-rhythmic count.

This could induce Crow either to get an early start or remain in position while the quarterback ends up with the football on his hands, a puzzled expression on his face and a 275-pound defensive tackle or two on his back.

Because Crow has stood out in the 49ers' two scrimmages, there is little concern about his minor confusion. Also, there are five pre-season games plus the daily drills to iron out the smaller details.

What gives cause for worry about the former All America and Heisman Trophy winner is Crow's history of knee trouble. He missed almost the entire 1963 season and underwent knee surgery that October. He also missed the 1964 Playoff Bowl because of a knee injury suffered in the final regular season game.

"I feel real good," says Crow. "I hope I can say that 20 weeks from now."

Despite alternating with three other Cardinal backs in 1964, Crow led St. Louis rushers with 554 yards gained, 10th best in the NFL. He asked for a trade to get more work and was swapped for defensive back and kickoff return specialist Abe Woodson.

Crow isn't rushing into condition at the 49er camp and isn't fretting much, either.

"There's not too much to football when you boil it down," he says. "The quarterback hands you the ball and the other nine guys knock the other side down."

Christiansen comments that Crow helps simplify matters by faking defenders into blockers.

Murakami To Be Feted At Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japanese relief pitcher Masanori Murakami gets a special day this Sunday at Candlestick Park before the San Francisco Giants play the Philadelphia Phils.

The only Japanese ever to play in the United States major leagues will be honored with gifts and a plaque. A soy sauce company plans to give him a Japanese automobile.

About 1,200 tickets to the game had been sold in the Japanese community in Northern California by yesterday.

The 21-year-old left-handed ace of the San Francisco bullpen has won three games this season while losing one. He is used primarily in late innings to retire dangerous left-handed batters.

The day of honor for Murakami was planned by two newspapers that serve the Northern California Japanese community, The Nichibei Times and Hokubei Mainichi.

ON CLINIC STAFF — Hal Fischer of Corte Madera, sports director at the San Francisco Presidio, will serve on the staff of the 1965 basketball coaches clinics to be held in Korea, Okinawa, Manila, Japan and Hawaii. Fischer was the U.S. national coach that led his team to four out of five victories over the Russian cage team this year on a national tour.

Tropical Beauty For Pineapple Pancakes

For a better brunch serve these scrumptious pineapple sauced pancake rolls. Unusual contrasts of texture, color and temperature make them an ingenious warm weather offering. The delicate pancakes are flavored with a wonderful combination of cottage cheese and crushed pineapple. Roll the pancakes with a cool heap of cottage cheese inside. Then top with the flavorful translucent pineapple sauce.

TROPICAL PINEAPPLE PANCAKE ROLLS

1 (13½-ounce) can crushed pineapple
2 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Cottage Cheese Pancakes
1 cup cottage cheese

Combine syrup drained from pineapple, cornstarch, sugar, butter and salt. Cook over moderate heat, stirring until mixture clears and thickens. Reserve ¼ cup drained pineapple for cottage cheese pancakes; add remaining pineapple to sauce along with vanilla and lemon juice. Keep warm while preparing pancakes. When all pancakes are baked, place a spoonful of cottage cheese on each pancake and roll. Top with pineapple sauce. Makes 4 servings.

COTTAGE CHEESE PANCAKES

1 cup cottage cheese
4 eggs
⅛ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup drained crushed pineapple

Combine cottage cheese, eggs, flour and salt in blender; whirl until smooth.* Stir in pineapple. Bake on lightly greased griddle. Keep warm in very slow oven until all pancakes are baked.

*Or sieve cottage cheese and combine with eggs, flour and salt; beat with rotary beater until smooth.

Vitello Tonnato Is Served Often As Antipasto, Relish

When Americans first come on cold veal with tuna sauce, it usually seems a strange combination. But once savored, tasters are likely to say it's a great experience.

EPICUREANS in this country have been familiar with this lovely dish for years; now, perhaps because its ingredients are widely available, it is slowly becoming known to families all over these United States.

Every summer at our house we test versions of cold veal with tuna sauce—its origin Italy, Vitello Tonnato its Italian name. The basic recipe calls for boneless veal simmered in stock, drained, chilled and sliced. Then a sauce with a mayonnaise base is poured over the meat. In Italy the mayonnaise used is homemade, in America it may be a commercial variety.

WHERE DOES the tuna come in? It is either added to the water and seasonings in which the veal is cooked, and then the resulting tuna-flavored broth is used in the sauce, or the tuna is added directly to the sauce as in the following recipe.

Several cuts of boneless veal—rump, shoulder, leg — may be used for Vitello Tonnato. This year we used a thick piece of veal cutlet from the round because it makes extremely even slices. Rump also slices well; shoulder tastes good but gives lots of small pieces and tag ends.

How is Vitello Tonnato served? You may offer it as an antipasto —an elegant first-course relish; or as one of the contributions to a cold buffet; or as the main dish for luncheon or supper.

VEAL WITH TUNA SAUCE

2½ pounds veal cutlet (from the round and one thick piece)
Water
1 medium onion, sliced
1 large carrot, pared and quartered
1 rib celery with leaves, quartered
Parsley (several sprigs and 2 tablespoons minced)
1 bay leaf
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 cup commercial mayonnaise
1 can (6½ ounces) flaked tuna, drained
8 flat anchovies, drained
¼ cup lemon juice
Drained capers

In a large deep skillet or chicken fryer place the veal and barely enough water (about 1 quart) to cover. Add the onions, carrot, celery, parsley sprigs, bay leaf, salt, pepper and thyme. Simmer covered, turning once, for 1½ hours or until meat is tender. Re move meat and chill.

(Refrigerate strained broth for some other use).

In an electric blender, blend together until smooth the 2 tablespoons minced parsley, mayonnaise, tuna, anchovies and 1 tablespoon capers. Slice the veal thin, arrange in a serving dish, and as you do so, spoon some of the tuna sauce over each slice.

Garnish with extra capers. Cover and chill until serving time. Makes 8 servings.

Barbecue Sauce Brings Out Best In Spareribs

Barbecue sauces for different meats vary distinctly. With beef a piquant sauce seems to bring out the flavor best, while with pork, a slightly sweeter sauce is often preferred.

4 to 6 pounds spareribs
Salt
Pepper
½ cup finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup catsup
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup water
Dash hot sauce, if desired

Have spareribs sawed across rib bones so individual servings carve easily. Season spareribs with salt and pepper. Place in a shallow baking pan, cover tightly and cook in a moderate oven (325° F.) 1 hour. Pour off drippings. Combine onion, vinegar, brown sugar, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard, water and hot sauce. Pour mixture over spareribs and continue cooking uncovered for 1 hour or until done. Baste occasionally with barbecue sauce. 4 to 6 servings.

Scandinavian Sandwich Art

Fancy sandwiches built around flavorsome raisin bread are the ultimate of beauty for summer entertaining. If artistry is your forte, choose to serve these de luxe smorgasbord raisin bread triangles with an assortment of beautiful open face toppings. Arrange strawberries, orange sections and avocado slices over the cream cheese spread bread. Over this goes a tantalizing rum dressing.

Taking a cue from the Scandinavian origin of open face sandwiches, select individual trays for serving them. The precisely arranged raisin bread triangles look handsome. On each tray place two beautifully glazed fruit sandwiches as well as a ham and chicken one. Accompany them with a small bowl of raisin cole slaw. This makes attractive tasty luncheon fare to serve during sandwich time.

DE LUXE RAISIN BREAD SMORGASBORD

1 small avocado
2 oranges
8 fresh strawberries*
8 slices raisin bread
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon half and half
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup honey
1 tablespoon salad oil
2 teaspoons rum extract
Butter
Thinly sliced baked ham

Cut avocado lengthwise into ¼-inch slices; section oranges; halve strawberries, if large. Trim crusts from raisin bread; spread 4 slices with cream cheese blended with half and half and salt. On each slice arrange 2 or 3 avocado slices diagonally across center of bread so ends touch opposite corners. Arrange 3 or 4 orange sections in parallel rows on one side of avocado. Place 2 whole or halved strawberries in opposite corners. Brush fruits generously with mixture of honey beaten vigorously with oil and rum flavoring until thickened. Cut sandwiches in half diagonally through rows of fruits. Spread remaining raisin bread with butter; cover 2 slices with ham and 2 slices with chicken. Cut in half diagonally. Arrange 2 fruit, 1 ham and 1 chicken triangle for each serving. Makes 4 servings.

*Or 2 (2½-inch thick) slices canned strained cranberry sauce, cut in half.

Youngsters Will Like Sandwiches

Seedless Grapes Beverage

EGG SALAD SANDWICHES

6 hard-cooked eggs
¼ cup commercial tartar sauce
1 tablespoon pickle relish
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
8 slices bread

Mash eggs, while still warm, or put through ricer; mix with tartar sauce, pickle relish, vinegar, salt and pepper. Make 4 sandwiches of the mixture with the bread; cut each sandwich in half diagonally. Sandwiches may be made the night before serving — if they are wrapped tightly in plastic film or aluminum foil and are refrigerated. Makes 4 servings.

FOR SUMMER ENTERTAINING try these deluxe smorgasbord raisin bread triangles with an assortment of open face toppings. Arrange strawberries, orange sections and avocado slices over the cream cheese spread bread.

Luncheon To Honor Debutante Tomorrow At Belvedere Home

By MOLLY MARIN

Marin debutante Kristin Pflueger will be honored by her two aunts, Mrs. James Crittenden (Betty Fflueger) and Mrs. Richard Blake (Claire Pflueger), at a luncheon at Mrs. Crittenden's Belvedere home tomorrow. The deb's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Pflueger of Belvedere, will attend, and Kristin's three great-aunts, Mrs. Otto Pflueger of Belvedere, and Mesdames William and Milton Pflueger of San Francisco, will also be on hand for the party. All of the girls who will be presented at the Marin Debutante Ball in December have been invited. Lunch will be served in the dining room of the Crittenden home, which opens onto the garden.

MRS. LUCIA YOUNG of Novato is vacationing in Hawaii. She left on Sunday for a 21 day vacation. Seeing her off on the Lurline was her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Chester and her husband and their children, Russell and Michael Chester, as well as a number of other relatives and friends.

BELVEDERE FRIENDS will be happy to learn that Mrs. Anne Sawyer is building a house on Laurel Avenue. Ground was broken last week, and Mrs. Sawyer hopes construction will be completed by Christmas. Mrs. Sawyer's present plans are to maintain a permanent home in San Francisco and to use the Belvedere residence for week-ends and summer vacations.

MR. AND MRS. FRED B. CRADDOCK of San Rafael have had as their visitor her sister, Mrs. Thomas J. Howard, who was here from Houston. Mrs. Craddock, social chairman of the Peacock Gap Country Club, entertained her sister at luncheon and dinner at the club during her stay.

SAN RAFAEL VISITORS in Canadian Rockies include Mrs. Esther Homiller and Elise Mazzini, who stayed at the Chateau Lake Louise.

THE WILLIAM J. PAULAS (Barbara Bentley) of Petaluma were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a party on Sunday in Petaluma. Hosting the surprise party were their children, Mrs. Michael Noftz of Bodega, and John, Robert, and James Paula of Petaluma, and her sister, Mrs. Beverly Irish. One hundred and fifty guests attended the gathering.

FIFTY GUESTS were included in the formal dinner dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bacharach at the Peacock Gap Country Club on Saturday. Friends from around the Bay Area first enjoyed cocktails at the Bacharachs' Harbor Estates home in San Rafael.

GLOBAL LOOK—

International Uniforms Are Shift And Shirtwaist Styles

By GAY PAULEY

PARIS (UPI) — Closing the diary on a European trip:

No longer can you separate the tourists from the natives by the way they dress. Styles have become that international.

Even that obvious label, "have cameras, am traveling" is seen less. Maybe it's because cameras are becoming smaller, but there's a definite decrease in the number of tourists with three and four cameras slung around the shoulders.

WHAT THEY'RE wearing in Rome and Florence and Paris and Stockholm is much the same as what you'll see on Main Street, USA. The international "uniform" for women in warm weather proves to be the sleeveless, collarless shift—the dress with straight, unbelted lines. It shows everywhere in pastels, beige, white and occasionally black. And it's made in an infinite variety of bright prints. Its fabrics are linen, cotton, silk, or blends of the natural and synthetic fibers.

RUNNER-UP to the comfortable shift are the shirtwaist styles, and these usually are sleeveless numbers too, with narrow rather than full skirts. They're a favorite, for instance, with Mrs. Frederick Reinhardt, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to Italy.

The millinery industry continues to have its headaches abroad as in America. Hatlessness is the rule for most of the women travelers.. But watch the girls pick up their luggage at any airlines terminal and it almost always includes a wig box.

One American fad that hasn't been transplanted yet—that of the bikini scarves, the abbreviated triangles of solid or printed fabrics covering the front of the head and tying under the chin.

Another that hasn't caught on is the geometric haircut, short as a boy's with squared-off sideburns and bangs burying the eyebrows. Most women wear more conventional cuts, short and with some curl.

BUT THE FAD for wearing sunglasses pushed back into the head as if they were a bandeau is universal. You see it with saleswomen in the fashion salons, with buyers from the States, among the women window-shopping on the Via Veneto.

SHORTS? A few on both sexes at tourists' haunts like Pisa, but neither shorts nor slacks on the streets. Bravo!

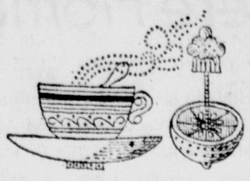
Foreign Visitors Return Home With Taste For U.S. Cookery

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many foreign visitors are returning home with an appetite for United States regional cookery.

This report comes from the United States Travel Service. The USTS was created in 1961 to promote tourism to the United States from abroad.

C. P. Austin, director of the agency's Visitor Services Division, says many foreign visitors develop such a taste for American food that they ask their local USTS officer for recipes. The agency which maintains nine overseas branches responds with mimeographed recipes.



AUSTIN SAID THAT reports from the branches indicate that the most popular U.S. dish with such visitors is chili con carne, followed closely by roast turkey, Boston baked beans and Virginia smoked ham. There also are universal compliments for American seafood and ice cream.

HE SAID THAT foreign visitors' pet peeves, include ketchup on everything, ice in almost all beverages, and tea in bags. Reactions vary by country, Austin said, in general, the British praised our cuisine more than the Italians and French do. The latter two tend to wonder if there is a law compelling all American potatoes to be fried; to say they despise our pallid, flabby bread; to ask in vain for fresh fruit in restaurants; and to deplore the way salad dressing is sprayed onto lettuce like some insecticide.

The following quotes were gleaned from the USTS file on visitors' comments:

From an Australian: "I found it a perfect delight to wander about America sampling regional fare. It was a fine adventure —and the foods were, for the most part, quite palatable. But I suspiciously wondered what creatures met their demise for the preparation of such dishes as scrapple, gumbo, scrod, jambalaya, lomi-lomi and shoo-fly pie. However, I was determined if Americans could stand such names, so could I!"

FROM AN ITALIAN journalist: "Americans always make you eat beef until the brand shows."

A London newspaperman wrote: "America is an ingenious land. Every stranger must surely want to revisit it for its heart even more than for its head, and the remarkable scope of its gadgets—some of which, thank God, don't work."

A FRENCH VISITOR who was anti-everything including the Grand Canyon (he said he thought it too big) developed his own U.S. version of the continental rolls and coffee breakfast. It was flapjacks spread with butter and eaten out of hand like a breakfast roll.

AND THEN THERE was a tour leader who painstakingly planned his itinerary to include an Italian restaurant every day —only to discover that his Italian tourists wanted wonton soup and chow mein.

Thrift Is Taught Through Inventory

Teacher Eleanor Cook's first grade approach to thrift is described in the Journal of the National Education Association.

She used the school's lost and found box, asking some children in the West Hartford, Conn., school to inventory contents. The class then looked through newspaper alvertisements to determine the current price for each item. Children were shocked to learn that their carelessness with belongings was so costly.

ON WHITNEY TRAIL

Three Marinites were among the 34 Sierra Club members who spent a week picking up tin cans, glass, tinfoil, gum wrappers and abandoned paraphernalia along the trail from Whitney Portal to the summit of Mt. Whitney. Here Mrs. Judith DeLone of Terra Linda and Susan Hardy of Kent Woodlands tie up bags of the trash that totaled an estimated 4,000 pounds. Mrs. DeLone is using a tin can smasher to compress debris. Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hardy, is a junior at the University of California. Also on the trip was Ed Brown Jr., son of the Ed Browns of Kent Woodlands, who is a packer with the Mt. Whitney-Lone Pine Pack Train this summer, helping to pack in supplies for the clean-up camp at Mirror Lake. A clean-up party is set for the Salmon-Trinity Alps Wilderness on Labor Day weekend.

Choose Hats For Flattery In Lines

During hat try-ons remember that horizontal or curving lines round a face and figure; verticals lengthen and slenderize; diagonals diminish those aspect of appearance that you would wish out of existence.

The tips were coupled with this advice: if your face is long, add hat width in the area of your temples; for a round face, try hats with crisp, angular lines; trimmings of the back of a hat draw attention away from a receding chin.

Inverness Garden Club Plans Fair

The Inverness Garden Club has found itself a niche on a hillside overlooking Tomales Bay — where it will greet visitors to the Inverness Fair on Saturday and Sunday.

In a glade of young Bishop pine, the club has constructed an exhibit area where hundreds of plants will go on sale.

Features of the exhibit will be a Japanese style bridge across a small man-made stream, and a waterfall that spills over nearby rocks.

Garden Club headquarters are in the shape of a small red house with white shutters and an American flag fluttering overhead.

Dozens of plants will be exhibited on wooden cable spools. Others will be perched on the hillside under the pines, to be reached by a walk up redwood slab steps.

From the garden club area, the fairgoer can look out across St. Columba's Way of the Cross, situated in an acre of recently planted garden.

Mrs. Dorothy Swift of Inverness is in charge of the Garden Club exhibit together with a group of Inverness area women under the presidency of Mrs. Edna F. Opp.

The fairgrounds are one half mile beyond Inverness village. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Lunch is served Saturday, and tea on both afternoons by the members of St. Columba's Guild.

Lagunitas Youth Delivers Supplies To Rights Workers

A college student from Lagunitas has just returned from a mission of mercy to Mississippi, where he and a friend delivered almost two tons of food, clothing and office equipment to civil rights workers.

Guy Howard, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Howard of Arroyo Road, Lagunitas, left July 31 with Bob Lays, 20, of Long Island, N.Y., with a half-ton pickup truck and an attached trailer for Greenville and Leland, Miss. They arrived Aug. 4, made their deliveries in about three hours and started back the next day. They returned Sunday after a detour of a few hours in Las Vegas, a stop not originally on their itinerary.

The supplies were raised by the Marin to Mississippi Project, which is headed by Mrs. Barbara Goldstein, wife of Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein. The project has sent a series of truck missions to Mississippi.

The materials are used mainly to sustain the Negro farm laborers in the area, who are striking for an hourly wage of $1.25 per hour. Until they struck they were paid 30 cents per hour. A voter registration drive also occupies the workers in Greenville.

While in Greenville the two youths stayed with a Reverend Walker, a white man who is leader of the Delta ministry. He is active in the civil rights movement, Guy related, and suffers continual harrassment because of it.

Marin Balloon Flies To Rutherford For $5

Judy Wilcheck's balloon flew 33 air miles to Rutherford, Napa County.

That made 11-year-old Judy of 73 Edward Court, San Rafael, the winner of San Rafael Recreation Department's "Operation Blastoff," balloon distance flying contest. She won $5.

On June 29, about 800 children sent-up helium-filled balloons with postcards attached, from various San Rafael parks and playgrounds. Of the 33 postcards that were returned Judy's had traveled fartherest.

The contest closed Saturday with results released today.

Judy sent her postcard from Santa Venetia Junior High School and it was found in Rutherford, 15 miles north of Napa, by Alfonso Salseda on July 10.

Second place went to Lisa, 5, and Rickey Shiafly, 7, of 102 La Brea Way, San Rafael. Their balloon came to earth in Rancho Rova, just south of Rutherford. Finishing third were Kevin, 10, and Cindy Vincent, 7, of 25 Jefferson Avenue, San Rafael.

Also finishing in the prize money were Bill Hampton, 8, of 125 Du Bois Avenue, San Rafael; Jeff Camler, 8, of 15 Arguello Circle, San Rafael, and Nancy Perry, 7, of 44 Robinhood Drive, San Rafael, who finished fourth, fifth and sixth respectively.

Nancy, whose postcard was returned from Napa on June 30, was the leader for the first two weeks of the contest.

The contest was the final event of the summer for the recreation department. The Community Recreation Center, 37 Union Street, will cease operations for the summer on Friday.

Time Is Now For Decision On Death Penalty In State

We are not yet completely sold on the arguments either for or against the death penalty in California.

But of one thing we are convinced. As long as the death penalty remains on the books, it should be enforced. If the state is not going to enforce it (the death penalty has not been applied for more than two years), then capital punishment should be abolished.

The current practice of declaring an unofficial moratorium on the application of the death penalty, while leaving the law unchanged, only postpones the inevitable.

The time will soon come when expensive additions will have to be made to house the ever increasing number of the condemned.

Death Row at San Quentin Prison now holds 50 inmates, and the number keeps growing, with no relief in sight.

The cost of maintaining Death Row and in handling the condemned is considerable.

It costs about $2,000 per year to keep a general population inmate in San Quentin. The cost of keeping a man on Death Row could be twice or three times as much, although there has been no precise computation.

To begin with, there are never less than two and at times three, four or five officers on duty on condemned row to care for 50 inmates. In the cell blocks the same number of officers take care of 1,000 to 1,500 inmates.

Men on Death Row get special foods and special attention. One television set is provided for every three or four cells on the Row. In the regular blocks, one TV set serves 500 to 600.

Doctors must leave their regular duties to visit an occupant of Death Row. When a condemned man has a visit, he must be accompanied by two guards to and from the visiting room.

Compared with regular inmates, the condemned men are "coddled." We tell them they must forfeit their lives; then the milk of human kindness dictates that we do everything possible to make it easier for them to live with this thought in mind.

Add to these the expense of rehearings, new trials, appeals, escorts and transportation to and from these hearings.

The total added cost of maintaining the death penalty may run between $200,000 and $500,000 per year.

Cost should certainly not be a deciding factor in the question of whether or not the death penalty should be abolished.

But it should remind the taxpayers of the state that the longer they remain undecided on what to do with the increasing inmates on Death Row, the bigger the squeeze on their pocketbooks.

A Skunk-Filled Night

A house guest, a Hong Kong Chinese, who had only heard the word "skunk," was staying at our house the night the skunk exploded, so to speak, right outside her window.

She came charging into the living room, gagging and saying she couldn't breathe. We were having the same trouble, but reassured her it was just an animal and it would blow off by morning.

Besides almost creating an international incident, the fragrance of skunk can be pretty overwhelming. We used to encourage a skunk to live in our drain pipe, but he fouled us up several times too often. And now that a number of them are found to be rabid, we think we had rocks in our head.

Skunks are great in a zoo or museum.

U.S. Anti-Poverty Program Fails To Reach Any Permanent Goals

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Discussion of the philosophies affecting human society is not an easy subject, but it is apparent some thought must be given the growing complications of modern living before government effects a complete takeover of the people.

FUNDAMENTALLY, the only method whereby President Lyndon B. Johnson's administration can "abolish poverty" is through taxation of people who earn a living, and redistribution of this tax money to people who don't earn what the government calls an adequate living.

This method may be all dressed up in flowery phrases by the Washington bureaucrats, but in the final analysis the anti-poverty program fails to add up to a permanent accomplishment of the goal.

In other words, the attitudes of the individual—and this has been shown historically — can not be translated to reflect the attitudes of the mass. Pure reason, therefore, as well as historical background, indicates a continuation of human nature as it has continued in the past. Applied to poverty, it remains a fact that some people will show acquisitiveness and get rich; others will remain well-to-do; still more will be in the middle, and at the lower end of the horn will be the poor.

QUITE ASIDE from all contemplation of human sympathy for these people who through their own inability remain at the lower end, the ultimate question is how far can the taxpayer go in distributing his earning power to that portion of society which contributes a minimum to the economy?

The taxpayer has gone a long way. A mere look at the welfare services offered by government is enough to convince any taxpayer that he has about reached the limit in wealth distribution. The sympathetic public through the magnanimity of its open-hearted officials in Washington and Sacramento, provides food, housing, transportation, education, job opportunities, insurance and numberless other things including old-age security, for people who have not earned these economic benefits.

NOW THROUGH the creation of another vast bureaucracy, which is about all the anti-poverty program is showing as yet, the generous government contemplates siphoning off billions more dollars from the producers to hand in one way or another to the dependents.

Apparently as the result of politically-motivated thinking, a society which has existed for decades is confronted with the crisis of poverty, which is nothing new in the normal course of society. And the only answer the beneficent government can give is to equalize the wealth of the nation by seizing the hard-earned dollars of the workers and giving them to those who least deserve consideration.

SOCIETY HAS reached a sorry stage in losing the philosophy that productive enterprise and hard work are out of style.

Writers Questioned On Use Of Labels

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Stackhouse and Mr. Wiedenmayer would both profit by reading the sections on social imbalance in any good introductory economics book.

It is interesting that Mr. Stackhouse attacked some programs that any self-respecting conservative would not dream of discontinuing.

Mr. Wiedenmayer seems confused in his terminology. It is not good intellectual policy to loosely attach names to items without defining the word itself.

Two of these words are "socialism" and "democrat." The democrats of Mr. Roosevelt's days were, generally, more conservative than most staunch modern Republicans. So to that degree conservatives are "socialistic."

No doubt these two men have a medium or high living standard and object to high taxes. Even some of us democrats object to that. But this is no excuse for freely using loaded words.

In the Clayton Act of 1914, Congress declared, "The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce." The impressive list of Mr. Stackhouse is indicative of programs designed to treat people as human beings, not as "commodities" or "articles of commerce."

Tiburon Area Needs No More Taverns

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I read with great interest your last published report of the planning commission for Tiburon-Belvedere area, and noted that some persons were concerned as to the "honky-tonk" atmosphere growing there.

Having been a home owner on the hillside of Sausalito for some 11 years until my move here to escape the tawdry atmosphere there, I have seen a sedate community grow into a carnival of traffic and noise lasting well into the wee hours.

Not confined to the central area, restaurants, bars and what-have-you houseboats have spread all around the once peaceful residential environs, and liquor flows freely with the end result being disturbing echoes to the 6,100 inhabitants. For so small a community as Sausalito to have over 20 premises serving liquor is ridiculous.

Now Tiburon is going the same way, with more and more applications for liquor licenses being made. I assure you that in Tiburon, one more license is already overloading the crowded waterfront and destroying the respect and quality that is so uniquely surviving in Tiburon and Belvedere.

I urge most strongly that all residents take positive and swift steps through their representatives to ensure the strictest control now of all licenses, and forbid more being granted, before they, too, are forced to move because of the inevitable debacle that will follow the present policy.

Sea Floor Study Sparks Memory

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Ellen Bry's report (Aug. 4) on the new-fangled ocean-bottom tester-taster brings to mind the yarn about Nantucket's famous whaler captain:

Through long years of testing, tasting, fingering and smelling ocean floor samples brought aboard in the sounder, Cap'n Simes could identify every square foot of bottom from Cape Cod to the Newflin Banks.

Putting out from Nantucket one day, with a long dull cruise ahead, the crew played a trick on Cap'n Simes. They filled the sounding lead with soil from Cap'n Simes' garden in Nantucket. A few miles out, the lead was handed to Cap'n Simes.

War News Acts As Poet's Muse

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . We now . . . approach the borders of China with our bombing raids and with every intention of escalating the bombing beyond the borders of China . . . , starting a nuclear war with the Soviet Union, thus bringing to an end all life such as we know it on this planet. . . .

Brooding over that thought the other morning, I jotted down this ditty to the tune of "Caissons Go Rolling Along":

Over homes, over schools, we will bomb the bloody fools
'Til we bomb all the world straight to hell!
In the North, in the South, we must silence every mouth
'Til we bomb all the world straight to hell!
Oh, it's hi, hi, hee in the U. S. bombery,
Barry is glad he didn't win,
'Cause it's Johnson's war and all the bloody gore
Are his responsibility.
So we'll think of Adelai
As we tell our daily lie
To cover up our infamy.
Over homes, over schools, we will bomb the bloody fools
'Til we bomb all the world straight to hell!
So it's hi, hi, hee in Johnson's bombery,
There's bombs there enough for us all—
And when the war is won,
The bugs will have the run
Of whatever is left of us all.

Johnson's Secret Of Success Lies With Great Election Win

WASHINGTON — This talk about Lyndon Johnson's political magic is quite inadequate to explain how he has obtained so easily from one single session of Congress such a harvest of liberal legislation.

His record is clear: More far-reaching, high-cost welfare measures than were enacted under all three Democratic predecessors — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman and John F. Kennedy—combined.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN ran on a vast social welfare campaign — and was elected. He asked Congress for a medicare program for the elderly, but couldn't get it. Johnson did.

President Kennedy pleaded with Congress for large federal aid to education, but couldn't get it. Johnson did.

For 41 years Republican and Democratic presidents alike have urged Congress to modernize the immigration laws and wipe out the restrictive national origin quota system, but couldn't get them to do so. Johnson did.

IS THIS JUST presidential magic, legislative know-how drawn from his years as majority leader of the Senate and applied from the powerful vantage point of the White House?

There is far more to it than legislative skill and presidential arm-twisting. These are present, but they are only minor ingredients in the end result.

One major ingredient is the fact that Lyndon Johnson is the only Democratic presidential nominee to run ahead of his party since FDR.

HARRY TRUMAN was carried into office on the coattails of the Democratic Party. The Democratic members of Congress did not owe their election to Truman; just the opposite.

Twice Adlai Stevenson ran behind his own party. President Kennedy did, too. The Democratic Congress elected in 1960 did not owe their seats to Kennedy.

President Johnson ran far ahead of his party. The 2-to-1 Democratic majorities in the Senate and House today owe their existence to LBJ. They know it — and are responding accordingly. They believe substantially with the president because many of them know their political future rests with the president.

THIS DEMOCRATIC Congress is the president's Congress as no Congress has been since 1933.

Another major ingredient of Johnson's legislative power is Barry Goldwater's landslide disaster. He is the first Republican presidential nominee in decades to run behind his own party. He ran so far behind that he dragged down the Republican Party to near impotence. Two-party government prevails in name only in Washington today.

Thus President Johnson has massive support in his own right—a Democratic Party decisively on his side and in his debt—and almost no opposition because Republican strength in Congress is so decimated. In a sense, this is Barry Goldwater's unintended contribution to the Great Society.

THE THIRD ingredient comes from the change in climate in Washington toward business. Profit is no longer an epithet. The business community feels wanted by the president, feels that it has his ear in many matters.

LBJ's legislative skill is pretty special, but it belongs well down the list of the reasons for his success with Congress.

Foreign Aid Is Safe From Serious Cuts

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The cards are stacked against any steep slashing of President Lyndon B. Johnson's $3.3 billion foreign aid budget in the House Appropriations Committee.

The subcommittee handling this program has been rigged against that.

FOR YEARS this key committee, under the chairmanship of Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., militant foe of large-scale foreign aid spending, has backed his demand for heavy cuts —later invariably approved by the full House.

But that won't happen this year. Passman's subcommittee has been loaded against him.

The president is certain of a 6-to-3 majority for his $3.3 billion budget.

This decisive majority was set up this way: First, the committee was reduced from 11 to nine members. Then three Democrats were added whose votes the White House can count on—Reps. Julia Hansen of Washington, Jeffery Cohelan of California and Clarence Long of Maryland.

WITH THREE holdovers — Reps. John Rooney, D-N. Y.; William Natcher, D-Ky., and Silvio Conte, R-Mass. — that makes six sure votes. Aligned with Passman are Reps. Garner Shriver, R-Kans., and Mark Andrews, R-N. D.

This backstage trump card is the main factor behind the month-long deadlock between the House and Senate over the foreign aid authorization bill—which under the rules must be passed before the appropriations measure can be acted on.

Knowing it has secure control of the House Appropriations Committee, as well as the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the administration is flatly balking at accepting the Senate authorization bill as amended by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. Under his amendment, the existing foreign aid program — under which more than $100 billion has been expended since 1946 —would be terminated in two years and replaced by an entirely new one formulated by a special committee set up by Congress.

OUTCOME OF the protracted statemate is conjectural. Morse, leading Senate foe of large-scale foreign aid spending, is standing pat. So is the White House, in full control of the House conferees, headed by Rep. Thomas Morgan, D-Pa.

In an effort to find a solution, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, proposed that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and David Bell, foreign aid administrator, appear before that committee for a general discussion and questioning.

Morse raised no objection, but pointed out the two officials had one this before without tangible results,

"TWO YEARS AGO this committee was told a new foreign aid program would be presented," said Morse. "Nothing happened. All we got was a somewhat pared-down budget that was widely publicized as 'bare bones.' But not one thing has been done about putting an end to the gross waste, mismanagement, bungling and worse in dishing out hundreds of millions of taxpayers' money to scores of countries all over the world.

"Unless Secretary Rusk and Administrator Bell are prepared to come before the committee and state the administration is ready to set a specific date for putting an end to this squandering of billions, as prescribed by my amendment, I see no purpose in their wasting their time and ours. It would be just more empty talk."

Fall Vacationers Find A Snob Appeal In Their Late Holidays

IT'S ALMOST vacation time.

In the fall the tourists will have faded from the sidewalks of San Francisco and no longer will residents be able to practice the fine art of snobbery over white-shod visitors.

There will be fewer cars chugging up Mount Tamalpais, taking the turns with infinite care, especially if the license shows the driver to be from Kansas or some other flatland state.

THE BIRDS will be migrating through and to Marin, the deer will come out in the state parks, knowing the hiking population will drop drastically when the mists descend.

At Stinson Beach and Bolinas, the sand and waterborne population will drop drastically as the kids head back to school and families give up summer vacation houses — but the surfers will be awaiting the cold winds of fall which will push the surf high.

Golden Gate Park will become more safe for bicyclers and the ducks will become slimmer with fewer free food handouts.

NO LONGER will cars with strange license plates stop in the center of on-ramps or off-ramps of Highway 101, stymied as to the next turn as cars pile to a screeching halt behind them.

The sun worshippers who were not born in the state will give up sunning, continuing their Midwestern belief, instilled through years in colder climates, that fall means the end of sun and the beginning of cold.

Boats will still sail the bay but yachtsmen know it's the beginning of the end, when high wind and rain will make the sailing far from pleasure.

IN THE LIBRARIES of Marin cities, the kids will take over with their research papers from the adults who have settled in for summer browsing.

People will begin holding meetings again, after a summer of peace, relatively free of the hot air expended during hours of meetings which seem necessity.

Everyone settles back to the everyday reality of existence, the annual two-week orgy of relaxation or intense activity again gone for another year.

BUT AMONG the most smug and insidious of humans are those who have vacations in the fall. They can enjoy the peace of a lighter tourist population and may find tourist-hating residents almost smiling.

The weather will be perfection and the beaches and mountains will be free of other tourists.

Fellow workers will wish the late vacationer a "fine holiday" with ill-concealed insincerity, for it seems the fall vacationer somehow is getting more time, being the last of the clan to leave and return. His will be the last of the long book of vacation stories which must be endured.

IN FOUR more weeks my turn will come.

It's No Joke When CIA Starts Planting Stories

WASHINGTON — The Egyptian newspaper Al Gumhurriya charged the other day that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency is trying to "dominate Egypt and the whole Arab world." The paper said the CIA was not planting rumors but "inventing jokes against the state."

This is the first time that any reference has been made to the CIA's role in planting jokes in foreign countries, and now that the secret is out, I no longer feel any restraint in writing about it.

THE U.S. Bureau of Jokes is a separate branch of the CIA, and is so powerful that its existence is unknown to everyone except four or five top American officials who pride themselves on having a sense of humor.

The head of the department is Horace Glum, and he was kind enough to speak to me providing I gave his side of what happened at the Bay of Pigs—jokewise, that is.

Glum told us that all jokes for CIA infiltration work are thought up in Washington and then sent out to his agents by code. The punch lines are sent separately, so in case the code is broken the joke is still protected.

"SUPPOSE," said Glum, "we wanted to bring down a dictator in South America. We would send a joke to one of our agents and he would go to a bazaar or a cafe and say to a native, 'Did you hear the one about Dictator ——? He fell into the river and was saved by a peasant. The dictator was so grateful he told the peasant he would do anything he could for him, and the peasant replied, "There is only one thing you can do for me. Don't tell anyone I saved you."'

"In two weeks the story will have made the rounds of the country and in three weeks the dictator will be thrown out on his ear."

"Have you ever used that story in actual practice?"

"WE'VE BROUGHT down three governments with it so far, though I must admit it's getting to be quite a chestnut."

"What was the biggest success your department ever had?"

"Well, we came up with quite a good one a few years ago. It was a joke about Mao Tse-tung. He sent a telegram to Khrushchev saying, 'China starves. Please send food.' Khrushchev replied to Mao, 'Tighten your belts.' Mao replied to Khrushchev, 'Please send belts.'

"OUR AGENT planted this story in Peking in hopes of toppling Mao, but the Chinese were very smart and they planted the story in Moscow. In two weeks, instead of Mao, Khrushchev was out! Surprised the hell out of all of us here."

"What was the one you planted that got the Egyptians so mad?"

"I'm not sure. We've planted so many there. I think it may have been the one about a newspaperman fleeing the United Arab Republic. A friend asked him why. 'There are two reasons,' the newspaperman said. 'First, the regime might change and all my friends will be killed.' 'That's impossible,' the friend said. The newspaperman replied, 'I told you I had two reasons.'"

"THAT GOT to them?" I said.

"When it hits Aswan I don't give Nasser two more months."

"What about the Bay of Pigs?"

"We had some pretty good jokes to send in but President Kennedy wouldn't give us any air cover for them. By the time we got the jokes on the beach, the show was over."

"Do you think Cuba is lost to the free world?"

"I'm not too sure. What do you think of this one? Three guys are in prison in Havana. One says he's there because he was against Che Guevara. The other says he's there because he was for Che Guevara. The third man finally speaks up and says, 'I'm Che Guevara.'"

I SMILED, "If I was Castro, I'd resign."

20 YEARS AGO

The heads of government of Soviet Russia, Great Britain and the United States pledged at Potsdam to eliminate German militarism, saying that "It is . . . that the German people be given the opportunity to prepare for the eventual reconstruction of their life on a democratic and peaceful basis."

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

American songwriter Carrie Bond was born on this day in 1862.

On this day in history:

In 1909, the first SOS in history was sent by a disabled ship off Cape Hatteras, N. C.

In 1935, Nazi Storm Troopers demonstrated against the German Jews.

In 1962, Soviet astronaut Andrian Nikolayev was launched into space for a trip that last nearly four days. He was followed 24 hours later by astronaut Pavel Popovich.

A thought for the day—Canadian author John Stringer said: "Our bitterest wine is always drained from crushed ideals."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Postpone Finesse In Opponent's Suit When Playing Bridge

It usually pays to postpone a finesse in the enemy's suit. Sometimes the finesse goes away if you pay no attention to it.

Sometimes you are saved because the missing high card turns out to be a singleton or part of a doubleton.

Opening lead — ♠ K

When West leads the 10 of hearts you are tempted to play dummy's jack. Even if East produces the queen, you can still win with the ace.

NO ADVANTAGE

This is no advantage. If you take that first heart trick so full of honors, West is just one trick away from establishing his suit.

He gets in with one ace to force out the king of hearts, and West gets in with the other ace in time to defeat the contract with the rest of his hearts.

You can make the contract by playing a low heart from dummy at the first trick instead of the jack. Take the ace of hearts and lead a minor suit.

MISSING ACE

If East has one of the missing aces and you happen to lead that suit first, he will be unable to lead hearts up to dummy's king-jack. To put it another way, the finesse may go away if you pay no attention to it.

In this case West has both aces and therefore gets in no matter which suit you lead first.

West continues with another heart, and this time you try the finesse with dummy's jack (since you cannot tell that the queen is blank).

BIG DEAL

"Big deal," you complain. "What's the difference between losing to the queen of hearts early or late?"

The difference is game. When you lose the heart finesse late, East is out of hearts and cannot return the suit.

No matter what East returns you have time to force out West's other ace and thus make sure of 10 tricks.

Diplomatic Immunity Is Two-Way Street

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Representatives of a score of nations have learned to their dismay that diplomatic immunity is a two-way street.

While foreign diplomats are immune from arrest for breaking U.S. laws, so, too, are Washingtonians immune from having a foreign government conduct its business in a residential zone of the District of Columbia.

Public law 88-659, passed last October by Congress and immediately activated by the district zoning adjustment board, is the edict that has foreign embassies in a dither.

Nations—from New Zealand to Uruguay—have been steadily packing their U.S. embassies with personnel through the years. Chanceries are bursting at the seams. Many want to relocate. Others want to modernize or expand their present quarters.

The situation came to a head two years ago when Russia—occupying its present embassy-chancery since 1943 — received zoning board permission to build a $2 million, 150-room headquarters on the 16-acre Bonnie Brae estate overlooking picturesque Rock Creek Park, a highly restricted residential area.

There was vociferous local opposition to the proposal, leading to tempestuous public hearings and a momentous decision by the U.S. District Court. Not only was the zoning board's action "invalid," the court ruled, but a "newly constituted" board should hold a rehearing of the issue.

Members of the new board got the message. It promptly denied the USSR's proposed invasion of a residential district. And last Oct. 13, Congress gave the proposition a double-whammy with the new law which bars "construction, alteration, repair, conversion or occupancy" of any building used as a chancery in a zone restricted for "residential purposes."

Citizens groups, organizations and individuals heaved a big sigh of relief. And about 20 nations, hoping to expand their quarters or relocate them, went into a tailspin.

Embassies are recognized as residences. Chanceries are where foreign governments conduct their business. Several nations, including Britain and Russia, combine the two. But the new law—which also bans expansions — is a virtual impasse.

The new law has spread a pall of gloom over the State Department's protocol division, which acts as a diplomatic middleman in foreign squabbles.

"About 20 nations are jammed for chancery space," Harold Pace, special protocol service chief, observed. "Many want to expand their present facilities. Others seek new locations. The cost of office space in downtown Washington is almost prohibitive."

Nations in the "nowhere-to-go" category, he said, include Sweden, India, New Zealand, Malasia, Uruguay, Dahomey, Kenya, Congo (Brazzaville) and Brazil. Some foreign personnel "are scattered all over." And the zoning board has refused some requests to expand premises which are located in residential zones.

Why can't nations with jammed chanceries move to nearby Virginia or Maryland?

"This poses problems of convenience and prestige," Pace said. "They want to function in or near 'embassy row,' roughly bounded by Massachusetts Avenue from Dupont Circle to the observatory, lower Sixteenth Street to Colorado Avenue. Smaller countries prefer a three-story town house, costing between $100,000 and $150,000."

What about a new flurry of reports that the Russians are eying "Tregaron"—the 16-acre, $5 million estate of the late Joseph Davies, former U.S. ambassador to Russia?

"This site, we understand, is zoned R-1B, a residential area," Pace declared.

"Tregaron," owned now by the Tydings family of Maryland, was the scene of the filming of "Advise and Consent." Congress refused to accept it as a mansion for the vice president because of its costly upkeep.

If Russian diplomats plan to look "Tregaron" over, they better view the estate from a distance. The real estate man handling the property warned:

"Don't venture onto the estate. A German police dog will tear you to pieces!"

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A. R. B. wirtes: "My brother's doctor says there is no such thing as rose fever. Why am I sneezing? My eyes are very itchy at this time of the year." This individual has pollinosis or hay fever due to inhalation of whatever pollens were in the air at the time this letter was written.

The term rose fever is a hangover from a misconception that originated 400 years ago. Leonhardus Botallus of Pavia wrote about individuals who developed headache, nasal congestion, and sneezing from the odor of roses. This was the origin of the belief that roses were responsible for ordinary midsummer hay fever.

WE NOW KNOW these flowers are harmless and the cause of hay fever is an allergy to the pollen of a far less attractive plant. Roses rarely are guilty, because the pollen is too sticky to float in the air and is spread by insects. The same can be said of dandelions, goldenrod, cosmos, sunflowers, daisies, and other insect-pollinated flowers.

In contrast, we use the term hay fever even though hay is not the common offender and the victim is not feverish. For some, the hay fever season begins in April and May with the flowering of trees and early grasses. Grass hay fever is common in May, June, and early July. Weeds, especially ragweed, are in the picture until the first frost. The timing varies in different parts of the country, and the amount of pollen in the air depends upon weather conditions and wind currents.

RAGWEEDS are the most important hay fever plants in North America despite the fact grasses are found all over the country. All seed-bearing plants generate pollen, but only a few produce enough to constitute a hay fever menace. Pines produce an abundance of windborne pollen that are nonallergenic. Many people are sensitive to goldenrod pollen, but it is transported by insects rather than via air. The flower must be handled in order to develop a reaction.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EXCESS SALIVA

S. S. writes: Can emotions cause an excess flow of saliva? Since the death of my wife a few months ago, I have been troubled by this annoying symptom.

REPLY

Nervousness has varying effects. In some, it increases the flow; in others, secretions are reduced and the mouth feels dry. Of the two conditions, dryness is more annoying. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet which describes other causes of excess and decreased saliva.

OVERDOING IT

L. P. writes: My niece soaks up the sun at the beach, and in addition uses a sun lamp. Isn't this too much of a good thing?

REPLY

Yes, and her skin will suffer if she continues her double exposures for many years. Many women (and men) in their late forties and early fifties have dark spots on the skin and are as wrinkled as a prune because of too much sun.

EAR CANAL LINING

Robin writes: I am 9 years old and want to know why yellow wax comes from the ears.

REPLY

Because the lining of the ear canal contains special glands that produce wax (cerumen).

NOT WORTH IT

M. L. writes: Is novocaine ever used to alleviate the pain of arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, but it must be injected and relief is so brief it is not worth the risk of infection.

Today's Health Hint — Avoid overpriced and worthless "health" fads.

New Redwood Train Service Is Offered In Mendocino

There's a new smell, some new sounds and a bright new shape under the 2000-year-old redwoods of Mendocino County.

In what the California Western Railroad describes as its "great leap backward," steam is replacing diesel as the star tourist draw west of Willits.

California Western, a logging line since 1885, has augented its wildly popular "Skunk" diesel tramcars with a sparkling vermilion-and-gold steam locomotive and four turn-of-the-century chair cars. The once-a-day service between Ft. Bragg and Willits began July 10.

Reason behind this plush retrogression is the public's insatiable desire to ride behind an Iron Horse. Faced with a trend, CWRR junked its steam passenger trains in 1925, replaced them with a self-propelled diesel streetcar on the 40-mile corkscrew between the Mendocino Coast and U.S. Highway 101.

Hoggers, crumb bosses, parlor boys and pinheads (railroadese for engineers, conductors, flagmen and brakemen) scoffed at the ungainly diesels, said their fumes smelled worse than a skunk. But the Skunks made capital of the scornful nickname. They attracted 40,000 and 50,000 passengers a year to the confusion of the railroad owners, who really wanted to be in the freight business.

Faced with a profitable passenger operation, with floods of round trips at $3.45-per, the CWRR bowed to the reverse trend. Manager F. H. Sturges resurrected a Mikado superheated steam "lokey" up in Medford, found four passenger cars back East on the Erie & Lackawanna, and CWRR went back into high iron. Vermilion and black, beige and gold, "Old 45" now chugs her 40 miles each way, leaving Ft. Bragg at 10 a.m., returning from Willits at 2:20 p.m. to complete her "candy run" at 4:40.

Through the redwoods and over more hairpin turns and trestles than any short railroad in the world, the new "Super-Skunk" hauls 300 delighted passengers. Engineer Bill Munson tugs at the whistle cord and Old 45 "wears a feather" at ecstatic intervals.

Munson and his passengers are well aware the "Super" is the only standard-gauge steam passenger train in the West; and the first to revert to Watt's invention in 40 years.

Now and then the "Super" passes one of the diesel Skunks on a siding at Northspur or Irmulco, or Shake City. Then Munson really leans on the cord, to teach these smelly upstarts proper respect for railroading.

Unmarried Mothers Not So Bad Off

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Unwed mothers who keep their babies don't have life as tough as is commonly believed.

A new study of 80 unmarried California mothers and their children has shattered the traditional image of the woman who keeps her illegitimate child.

She is popularly believed to be something of a social outcast, willing to change towns or claim she is divorced to protect her reputation. She is also expected to have trouble finding a husband and to live on public welfare money because she can't support herself or her child.

Not true, says the report, which was prepared by a statewide adoption agency, California's Home Society, in cooperation with the State Department of Social Welfare and the Los Angeles County Bureau of Adoptions.

"Only a few mothers made any attempt to conceal their status," said Dr. Helen R. Wright, the report's author. Only five of the still unmarried mothers called themselves "Mrs." instead of "Miss." Only one had moved to a new neighborhood. And half the 80 had married within three years after their pregnancies.

Japan Offers Loan To Project In Laos

TOKYO (AP) Japan has decided to offer long-term, low-interest loans and financial assistance to the Nam Ngum Dam project in Laos to be undertaken as part of the Mekong River development program.

The $27 million project is one of the major plans to be carried out under President Johnson's billion dollar development program for Southeast Asia. The United States has said it will contribute half the cost.

Driver Fined $220

Grant George Galvin, 43, of 143 Dominican Drive, San Rafael, was fined $220 in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving last Dec. 4. He was arrested on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

One of the first settlers in Tomales was John Keys, who arrived in 1850 and settled on Tomales Bay. Keys claimed land, built a home, stores and wharf, and ran the Spray, a small schooner, between Tomales and San Francisco.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Hero Of A Western Takes Up Singing

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—What do viewers think when the virile Western hero of their small screens suddenly turns up in supper clubs smooth-shaven, pomaded, manicured and dinner-jacketed to sing of love?

Robert Horton, the sinewy scout of "Wagon Train" and now the gun-slinging amnesiac of ABC-TV's new series, "A Man Called Shenandoah" considered the question carefully.

It applies to him for he opens a singing engagement in the elegant Persian Room of the Plaza Hotel next Monday. And on Sept. 13—with the publicity of this venture still fresh — viewers will see him vault into the saddle again to search for his identity amid the badmen and badlands of the West.

Is there any conflict?

"Not at all," said Horton. "I've never tried to keep to any one special image. Why should I when I am interested in so many aspects of show business?

"Certainly the Western image is an attractive one for a man. So when I do Westerns I ride well and I do the stunts well, I hope. But the other part of my career as an actor-singer is another thing. In no way do I lean on the Western image in my supper club act except for a joke or two in the patter."

Horton thinks "A Man Called Shenandoah" has a good chance of being one of the high-rated shows of the next season although it faces "formidable opposition" from Andy Williams and Andy Griffith.

"I'm disappointed we're not in color," he said. "You want everything you can get going for you these days and color is an added value especially for me.

"Many people don't realize I've got red hair. It's part of my personality. I think that if we catch on we may well go into color before the end of the year. If we don't catch on — well, that's TV."

As well as starring in the new series Horton has written the theme song—new lyrics to the great folk ballad, "Shenandoah".

"When I recorded it as well the folks at MGM were surprised," Horton said. "You see they had forgotten I was a singer as well as an actor. That's how separate I've kept these careers, and images."

Dominican Sets Music Classes

Dominican College will begin its seventh season of Saturday morning music classes Sept. 18 for children aged 6 to 14.

The classes are in creative music (6-7 years), violin (8-12), guitar (9-14) and French conversation (6-12).

A limited number of private piano lessons will be offered also. The classes will last an hour and run through May 14, 1966. Registration will be from 10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. Sept. 11 in Angelico Hall.

Master Plan For Older Adults To Be TV Topic

The Master Plan for Older Adults in Marin County will be discussed on television KPIX (Channel 5) "Bay Window" show Sunday at 11 a.m.

The plan will be discussed by a panel consisting of Peter H. Behr, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors; Dr. Marjorie E. Belknap, chairman of the citizens' committee which produced the plan; Richard Phenix, coordinator for the committee, and Charles P. Weikel, regional director of the Federal Administration on Aging. John Caple will moderate.

Sinatra Yacht Continues Trip

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—The rented pleasure yacht of Frank Sinatra was back in Rhode Island waters today, its cruise to Martha's Vineyard Island saddened by the drowning of a crew member.

The 168-foot yacht Southern Breeze left Vineyard Haven last night as the Coast Guard continued an investigation into the loss of third mate Robert S. Goldfarb, 23, of the Bronx, N.Y.

The yacht was scheduled to berth at the mooring here later today. It was forced to drop anchor during the night because of fog.

The cross is lighted and is visible 30 miles in all directions. The cross was erected last year by Gen. and Mrs. Sumter L. Lowry in memory of their daughter, Lyn.

Cranston Favored If Brown Retires

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Controller Alan Cranston and Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty are the current Democratic favorites for governor in 1966 if Gov. Edmund G. Brown decides not to run, the California Poll announced today.

In a survey copyrighted by Field Research Corp., the poll asked a cross-section of California Democrats to tell whether they would prefer Cranston, Yorty, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh or Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson as the Democratic nominee next year if Brown steps out of the race.

A total of 26 per cent said they would prefer Cranston; 20 per cent named Yorty, 13 per cent preferred Unruh, and 10 per cent named Anderson. Thirty-one per cent said they had no choice.

Minimum Pay Plan Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee approved today the extension of minimum wage coverage to millions of new workers, including farm workers.

The committee has not yet taken up the matter of an increase in the present $1.25 an hour wage minimum, which a subcommittee has proposed increasing to $1.75. It is due to consider it next week.

The wider coverage called for by the committee goes far beyond President Johnson's recommendation for bringing in 4.6 million new workers. In two days of voting it has now approved covering more than 6 million, with proposals for bringing in more than 1 million more still to be considered.

It All Depends On Perspective

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Circuit Judge Robert Coleman and his companions had spent all night in the woods on a fox hunt.

As they were returning, they passed several men going fishing.

"Can you imagine," the judge said, "anybody silly enough to get up this early to go fishing?"

Robbers Drop Tunnel Into Bank Basement

SAN JOSE (UPI)—Two would-be bank robbers constructed an elaborate tunnel from a motel room to the basement of a next-door bank, but apparently gave up when they reached the bank's concrete foundation.

The tunnel was discovered Sunday by a maid as she cleaned the room, but the find was not disclosed by police until yesterday when they became convinced that the diggers would not return.

A hole was cut in the floor of the room and a sloping two-foot diameter tunnel angled toward the bank, the First and Phelan branch of the Bank of America. At the concrete foundation it abruptly stopped and there were no marks to indicate that the men had tried to chop through the cement.

"It's hard to imagine that they didn't anticipate this problem," said Sheriff's Lt. Cecil Pirtle.

In the spring of 1962, a single fire in New Jersey burned 60,000 acres in one day.

Death Row Inmate Wins New San Francisco Trial

Daniel A. Roberts, under death sentence at San Quentin Prison for first-degree murder, has been released to San Francisco County authorities after successfully appealing for a new trial, the San Francisco District Attorney's Office announced today.

Roberts, a 42-year-old laborer, had broken parole on a five years to life sentence for second-degree murder in San Bernardino when his landlady, Mrs. Pearl Popejoy of San Francisco, was killed June 20, 1962. He was picked up and was refused legal counsel while being questioned.

The 1964 Escobido decision of the United State Supreme Court forbids the use as evidence of statements taken from suspects who have been refused access to counsel. Since a statement by Roberts was introduced as evidence during his trial, the appellate court hearing his case ordered him remanded back to San Francisco for release or a new trial.

San Francisco Asst. District Attorney Nicholas Derman said this morning he will ask for the death penalty in the new trial. The trial date will be set wednesday.

Missing U.S. Girls Turn Up In France

BONN (UPI) — Two American teen-aged girls missing from their homes here since Aug. 2 have been found in Nice, France, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

Catherine White, 15, of Mount Hope, Kan., and June K. Hooven, 18, of Dearborn, Mich., disappeared after attending a movie in the American diplomatic housing area the night of Aug. 2.

Student Drowns In Mexico Surf

ROSARITO BEACH, Mexico (UPI)—A University of California at Berkeley student apparently drowned yesterday while swimming about 100 yards off this Baja California resort community.

The Coast Guard in San Diego identified him as Charles E. Hall Jr., 19, Escondido. His father, Charles E. Hall, an Escondito trailer salesman, saw the youth disappear and plunged into the water in a futile attempt to rescue him.

Hall called the Coast Guard which sent two aircraft to the scene. An intensive search failed to disclose a trace of the youth.

Banker Denied Hearing Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court yesterday denied a hearing to former president of the now-defunct San Francisco National Bank, Don C. Silverthorne.

It was Silverthorne's third unsuccessful bid to have two of five crimminal charges against him dropped.

Silverthorne claimed the charges of unlawfully taking bank property and knowingly overdrawing his account were illegally filed.

Silverthorne was charged in June of writing three checks totaling $25,000, with insufficient funds to cover them.

'MIRACLE,' IN SIERRA

San Rafael Boy Scout Tells Of Lightning Bolt

"We've witnessed a miracle," the father of a San Rafael Boy Scout struck Tuesday by a lightning bolt in the Sierra said today.

William Lehmann of 28 Jewell Street reported his son, Jay, 15, appeared to be making a good recovery at Miners Hospital in Nevada City, Nevada County.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehmann rushed to Nevada City soon after the freak accident.

"The miracle of course is that he is still alive," Lehmann said in a telephone report to the Independent-Journal.

Jay and his tentmate, Roger Thomas, 15, of 88 Jewell Street, were taking shelter from the mountain storm at the Scout camp near Chubb Lake where Troop 57 of San Rafael is staying.

Roger reported that he and Jay were sitting on their beds, putting on their shoes when the bolt hit.

"It was like a huge cherry bomb," according to Roger's account. There was a big cloud of smoke.

Lehmann, who went to the camp to look at the scene, said the bolt split a big tree and then exploded inside the tent. It evidently went from Jay's head all the way through the right side of his body, coming out his right foot. "His clothes were in shreds," Lehmann said.

Jay suffered burns on his body and foot. He was suffering today from cramps, but was able to begin eating.

Lehmann praised the first aid work of the Scouts. They treated both Jay and Roger for shock and had Jay almost all the way to the hospital in the camp carry-all when the ambulance met them.

Roger, who suffered minor burns, was treated at the hospital.

The wooden floor in the tent may have saved Jay's life because it was a poor conductor, Lehmann said.

"But I don't believe any of us knows how these things work," he said.

After the Immigriation and Naturalization Service moved from Ellis Island, the only full-time resident of the island was a Doberman pinscher watchdog.

They Work —But How?

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Donally Cole can't play a musical instrument. He can't even tune one.

Cole, a 50-year-old locktender at nearby Heidelberg, is right handy, though, as a craftsman. Using hand tools and woods native to the Kentucky mountains, he's turned out a guitar, banjo, violin and started on a ukelele.

His hobby has one drawback. Every time he completes an instrument, he has to track down somebody to try it out.

Brown Plumps For Passage Of Works Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office reported today that passage of the federal public works and economic development act would add $160 million to the state economy.

A spokesman for the governor said Brown has urged the California congressional delegation to work for passage of the act.

Brown said in a letter to Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., that 35 cities and counties of the state would be eligible for public works, planning and economic development projects in legislation now before the House.

The purpose of the act is to assist areas of high, persistent unemployment in developing local programs to generate new business through public works, loans and grants.

Brown said counties eligible for assistance would include Del Norte, El Dorado, Lassen, Madera, Mendocino, Modoc, Nevada, Plumas, San Benito, San Joaquin, Santa Cruz, Sierra, Siskiyou, Stanislaus, Sutter, Trinity, Tuolumne and Yuba and the cities of Oakland and San Diego.

Coffee Cash Fund Stolen At Office

Theft of $22 in coffee fund cash from the office of the Marin County Superintendent of Schools at Civic Center was reported today by sheriff's deputies.

They said the money, in small bills and change, was taken yesterday from an unlocked drawer of the desk of Dorothy Jo McMahon, executive secretary. No forced entry was evident.

Ring Stolen

Air Force Capt. Donald M. Moy of 71 Forrest Lane, San Rafael, told police today that a $75 ring had been stolen from the glove compartment of his car while it was parked in front of his house last night.

Bolinas-Stinson Trustees Deadlock On Appointment

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees stalemated last night when voting to appoint a replacement for past trustee Irving E. Levine who moved from the district.

The board split two to two in a vote to select one of three applicants for the position. The applicants were Mrs. Patricia Vitelli and John Barrow of Bolinas and Mrs. Bobbi Shockey of Stinson Beach.

Trustees Mrs. Mildred Haraldsen and Mrs. Jane Phillips voted for Mrs. Shockey; Arthur E. Carpenter and Mrs. Alyce Thompson voted for Mrs. Vitelli. The question was referred to County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Virgil S. Hollis for decision between the two women.

In other action, Mrs. Haraldsen resigned as clerk of the board, saying she could not afford the time. Carpenter was elected the new clerk.

Wheat Trouble Seen For Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — The big new Soviet purchase of wheat from Canada confirms that the Soviet Union is having another bad harvest, informed observers said today.

They put that interpretation on an announcement in Winnipeg that Canada will sell the Soviet Union almost five million metric tons of wheat in the next 12 months.

There had been indications that the Soviet wheat crop would be below average this year, primarily because of a lack of rain east of the Volga River.

The size of the new purchase indicates the crop will be far below average.

Drought in 1963 first sent the Soviet Union, a traditional exporter of wheat, into world markets to buy 12 million tons.

Third Mate's Widow Goes To See Sinatra

NEW YORK (UPI) — The widow of the crewman who drowned during Frank Sinatra's romantic yacht cruise visited the yacht today on its first day back in port.

Mrs. Robert S. Goldfarb, 21, and a party of five including her father and father-in - law went aboard to meet the singer on the Southern Breeze this morning at its anchorage in the Hudson River. The sleek white chartered yacht arrived here last night from Newport R. I., after a week's cruise along the New England coast.

Sinatra ordered the cruise ended abruptly after Goldfarb, the yacht's 23-year-old third mate, lost his life Tuesday in a dinghy accident after giving his life preserver to a non-swimming crewman. Returning here with Sinatra was his 19-year-old sweetheart, actress Mia Farrow.

Sinatra denied last night in the course of a bachelor party aboard the yacht that he and Miss Farrow already were married. The flood-lit yacht swayed gently at anchor 50 yards off Manhattan's upper West Side when reporters finally asked Sinatra the question that has intrigued the public for days.

"Are you married?", a newsman in a rowboat shouted to Sinatra.

"Do you think I could keep a thing like that a secret?" Sinatra called back from the Southern Breeze's deck.

"No, I don't think so," replied the reporter.

"You're right," Frank shouted back. "I'm not married."

Later, the glowing George Washington Bridge to the north and Manhattan skyscrapers silouetted against the stars to the south set the scene for shipboard socializing in the Sinatra style.

LBJ Staying In U.S. 'To Meet The People'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans no foreign travel this year but hopes to schedule speaking tours to widely separated parts of the nation in the fall as part of a "report to the people" program.

Johnson's travel plans became the subject of renewed interest after the President confided yesterday to a visiting delegation of travel industry executives that: "I hope before the year is out — when Congress gets out of here — I can do some traveling too."

White House officials, asked to elaborate on Johnson's plans, emphasized first that no trips to foreign countries were contemplated.

Bill D. Moyers, press secretary, was asked about Johnson's off-the-cuff remark about travel hopes. He said the President wanted to "get out and see parts of the country and see people." He said that this hope has not reached the formal planning stage nor have any invitations been accepted.

Ousted GOP Aide 'Money No Good'

WASHINGTON (UII) — William Cody Kelly, who ws fired as a top aide to GOP national Chairman Ray Bliss after a desk rifling incident in June, has found out his money is not good enough for the Republican party.

Langhorn Washburn, Republican financial director, told Kelly this week a check for $3,000 he contributed two months ago was being returned. Washburn also advised the former aide not to attend a gatherings of $1,000-or-more donors next week at former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Pennsylvania farm.

Kelly was dismissed from his party job after he was accused of prying open the desk of Frank Kovac, Washburn's predecessor, to look for a list of party contributors. Kelly charged Kovac was going to give the list to a conservative group.

Wallets, Pants Taken From Two

EUREKA (AP) — Two young men were robbed last night by bandits who took their trousers and wallets.

Sheriff's deputies later arrested two men and two women they said were involved and booked them for the crime.

Then, they arrested the two victims.

Deputies said the wallets of the two, which were found in the car of the robbery suspects, contained forged checks. The victims, identified as Stephen Bingeman, 20, of Rockford, Ill., and Nikolas Eggink, 22, of Washington, D.C., were booked on suspicion of forgery.

Booked for robbing Bingeman and Eggink were Billy Joe Spence, 30, and his wife, Liola, 24, of nearby McKinleyville; and Harold Edward Samples, 28, and Venita Sweet, 18, both of Bakersfield.

He suffered a deep cut and fracture of his right leg, fractured shoulder and cut scalp.

Senate Group Passes On T-H Repeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor subcommittee today approved 7-1 the administration bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft - Hartley law which allows states to ban the union shop.

The group put into the bill a provision to protect persons with conscientious scruples against joining a union on religious grounds. But it rejected far - reaching amendments offered by its Republican members.

Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., said he did not know when the bill would be taken before the full committee.

The bill would have the effect of knocking out so-called right-to-work laws in 19 states.

Under the union shop, an employe must agree to join the labor organization in a specified period of time in order to get or hold a job.

The House passed the repealer 221-203 July 28.

Airman Held In Attacks On 10 Sacramento Women

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Airman 2/c Wallace Spafford, accused of being Sacramento's so-called survey rapist, faces the prospect of spending the rest of his life in prison if convicted, the district attorney's office said today.

Spafford, 22, was arraigned yesterday in municipal court, accused of attacking 10 capital city women.

As his bride of less than a year sobbed, Judge James D. McDonnell set the McClellan AFB airman's bail at $55,000 and continued the case to Aug. 17.

Spafford was arrested Tuesday, the day he allegedly raped a 19-year-old American River Junior College coed. His checkbook, dropped during the attack, led to his arrest, authorities said.

The girl later positively identified Spafford as the rapist, detectives said.

Murphy's Name In GOP Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new but not unfamiliar name has been injected into speculation about the 1966 Republican gunatorial contest—that of U.S. Sen. George Murphy.

Dr. Gaylor B. Parkinson, GOP state chairman, told a news conference yesterday he plans to urge the senator to seek the nomination. He said a recently released poll showed Murphy as having a good chance of beating Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

According to Parkinson, Murphy was listed in the poll as running second to U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel — who he said was tabbed as the favorite to stop Brown's bid for a third term.

Communications Combines Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)— A Colorado Springs union leader yesterday pictured a new "communications industry" embracing all forms of publishing and broadcasting.

The description was made by Elmer Brown, president of the International Typographical Union. He said advances in technology would lead to development of the new industry.

He also said a single labor organization would represent all the workers in such an industry and hinted that the ITU was ready to take over such a job.

In a speech prepared for the National Press Club, Brown asserted that his union was not trying to restrict progress but welcomed new methods.

13 Injured In Highway Crash

SOLANA BEACH (UPI) — Thirteen persons were injured yesterday when a Tanner Gray Lines bus and a station wagon collided on U.S. 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Eleven bus passengers had skinned knees, but were not treated, patrolmen said.

Officers said the accident occurred when the station wagon turned in front of the oncoming bus and was struck broadside. The bus was en route to San Diego. It was driven by Eric Richards, 63, Los Angeles.

'Unworthy' Show May Get Reprieve

The San Francisco Mime Troupe, banned from performing in San Francisco city parks, was dropped yesterday from a dramatic program scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday in Mount Tamalpais Ampitheater after pressure from a local official of the State Department of Parks and Recreation.

But the show may be reinstated.

The pressure, applied yesterday by Gordon T. Kishbaugh, district superintendent of the Division of Beaches and Parks, was removed by Kishbaugh's superior.

Fred L. Jones, director of the parks and recreation department, said Kishbaugh could not ask for the show's cancellation because "he has not seen the show, nor have any of us, and we don't know what its content is."

Lyle Leverich, executive director of the Anthenum Arts Foundation, sponsor of the program, said he cancelled the Mime Troupe's performance after receiving Kishbaugh's letter.

He said Kishbaugh termed the play "unworthy" and asked that it be removed from the program. He said the superintendent threatened to revoke the foundation's permit to put on the five programs in its summer Festival on the Mountain.

Leverich was conferring with his attorney today on the possibility of reinstating the troupe on the program. He said his foundation has asked the state to say definitely whether or not the troupe can perform in the state-owned mountain theater.

The Troupe was scheduled to perform the play "Candalaio by Giordano Bruno. As of now, the revised program for Saturday will feature a recital by actress Agnes Morehead, a pantomine, "The Proposal of Pantalone" by the Oakland Civic Ballet, and two short plays by Strinberg and Pirandello performed by the Oakland Academy of Performing Arts.

The Mime Troupe plans to reopen its "A Minstrel Show or Civil Rights in a Cracker Barrel" at 8 p.m. today at Sausalito's Gate Theater, where the show played for four weeks last month.

Equalizations Will Not Affect Base Tax Rate

Marin County Supervisors granted a total of $761,110 in assessment reductions during a month of equalization hearings which ended Tuesday.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell announced that as a result the projected county tax rate of $2.19 per $100 assessed valuation may be reduced by a fraction.

Mitchell pointed out that the reductions totaled less than the $800,000 he had estimated when he was projecting the tax rate.

Because of this and other routine assessment adjustment, the tax rate might drop a bit, he said.

Mitchell said he will have the final assessed valuation for the county calculated tomorrow, and the assessed valuations of more than 100 public entities in Marin calculated by Monday.

For many years, Novato grew in two sections; one called "Old Town" centered around the first Catholic Church; the other area around the railroad, the A. D. Scott store, lumber yard and pioneer dwellings.

San Geronimo Lagging On Gas Line Petitions

San Geronimo Valley residents today were urged to speed up their requests to the pacific Gas and Electric Co. for natural gas service in the valley.

Of the 640 requests needed by Jan. 7 to insure service, only 208 had been received by PG and E yesterday, according to Jean A. Bevans, president of the San Geronimo Valley Assn.

"Response could be better," Bevans said. "The quicker the application forms are received, the sooner work installing gas mains can get started.

Association directors, meeting last night, agreed to hold a second meeting this fall, similar to one last month, in which PG and E representatives can explain the situation to the residents. No date has been set.

Directors decided to ask the county public works department to help solve a littering problem in Paper Mill Creek, since it clogs the creek in winter and causes flooding. They also honored Mrs. Maude Gardner, honorary member known as "association historian," on her 81st birthday.

Balmer Ends Ban On Youth Dances

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer today gave the city's youth council permission to hold its first dance at the new Community Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Balmer had police break up a dance which the council attempted to hold July at the center, explained that the building was still under construction.

G. W. Robertson, the youth council's building committee coordinator, said Balmer agreed to waive the city's usual $125 fee for clean-up and breakage insurance. Only restriction placed on the group was a request that teen-agers park at the nearby baseball diamond's parking lot rather than the unpaved lot at the center.

Delay Seen For Trip Across Sea

FALMOUTH, England (UPI) — A mirror-still sea stretched westward to the horizon today, and authorities here said the windless weather may delay Cleveland Newsman Robert Manry, who is nearing England in his 13½ foot sailboat Tinkerbelle.

"There is very little wind and the sea is as flat as a pancake," a coastguard spokesman said. "This could becalm the Tinkerbelle."

Manry, who set sail 73 days ago from Falmouth, Mass., on a 3,200-mile solo trip to England, was only about 200 miles from his goal. When he began his odyssey, he estimated the journey would take around 90 days.
